John L. Feek

John L. Feek, one of our senior students, died January 13, 1924.

He was first here in 1907-1908, returning for 1915-17. He developed a deep interest in literature and librarianship, and became an able assistant in the library. He keenly enjoyed the bookstore where he served for several holiday seasons. He was also much interested in his work as a pupil teacher and in the lads who came under his tutelage.

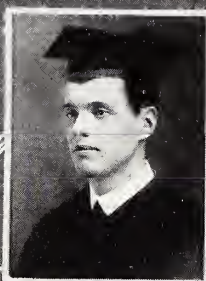

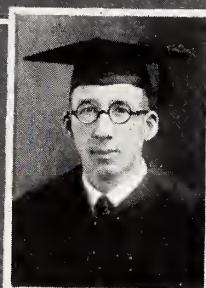

On January 2, 1918, he volunteered in the Quartermaster's corps. At Camp Johnston he was delighted by being put in charge of the camp library. Later, Lieut. Feek was Quartermaster of a hospital unit overseas, and was recommended "For a Certificate of Merit in recognition of especially meritorious services." Next he was assigned to library duty at the A. E. F. University at Beaune.

His later education was at the University of Illinois until illness sent him to the Tuberculosis Colony at Ottawa. Improved health allowed him to return to the I. S. N. U. September 10, 1923. Here he became especially interested in continuing his study of Freuch. His last day in school was Friday, December 14.

We who knew him well remember his fine mind and choice tastes, his appreciation of kindness and his loyal friendship. An able bookseller speaks of his delightful way of making people feel that he was deeply interested in their needs and wishes, and of the simple, unostentatious manner in which he helped them. Other friends write, "I feel somehow as if I'd lost one of the best friends I ever had." "I feel that we have suffered a real loss because he is no longer with us, but feel also that we could be justly proud of such a record as that left by John."

FLORENCE BLACKBURN

RICHARD EVANS

OSBORNE RUNION

MARTHA FITZPATRICK

Here's something to tell you, while we may
 We're the Junior bunch with our little say: .
 Our curriculums varied with no broad span
 We happily with each, go hand in hand.
 You will want to know who the leaders are
 That hope to have us come up to par;
 We would speak to you of Miss Cooper's part,
 Who was with us as sponsor from the very start.
 When the year opened fair, we gave Stoddard the chair,
 Who stayed with us only a part of the year.
 His departure from school left the place to fill,
 Which was done by Miss Blackburn, a sturdy Phil.
 Some one must always with note book in hand
 Keep track of the money and minutes demand.
 'Tis Martha Fitzpatrick and Runion, so kind,
 A better secretary and treasurer, we couldn't find.
 Then there's the chairman of social committees:
 'Tis Dorothy Sparks with her kindest aim,
 To make each party, whether dance or game,
 Bring something of profit to each maid and swain.
 And when as you know on our trips we'd embark
 There was Richard Evans, Vice President, capt' in part.
 And then when we're sick and our work's piling up.
 There's the Flower Fund Committee with its beverage cup,
 With good will and salvage with Florence at hand,
 To see that each Junior is safe on the mend.
 With our organized group we gladly would stand
 For any wise thing which man would demand.

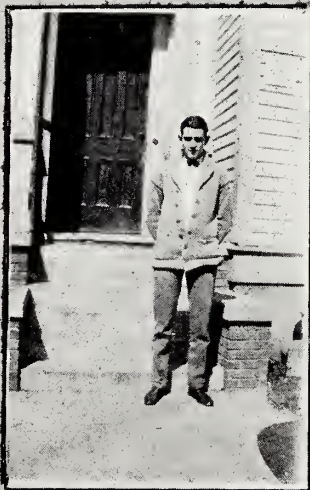

INDEX

We've La Belle Vanier with tact from the start
 Who meets alternate Tuesdays, with some to declare
 Just what is best for our student welfare.
 Some only can know what the school means to do,
 By reading each column the Vidette prints new,
 So to advertise write or plainly contend,
 Our efficient Miss Dennis, the best in the land.
 We've a list of good folks who are not on the staff,
 Such as Birkey, and Alfinson, Fitzgerald and Frye,
 Who would gladly work out some ideas new
 To contend with White, Johnson, and some Striuf can shew.
 There's Waterbury, Sutherland, Hyatt, McAfee, Moore,
 Who watches the sunrise from over the moor,
 To see McMullen, Jack, Changnon, McDeed,
 Come up to their labors to spell, write and read.
 But here are some more, Parrish, Peters, Langfeldt
 Who gladly would yield to their teacher's content.
 With Robinson, Geiger, Botts, McMurry and all,
 There're surely not such that daily would fall.
 And what would Hertel, Morrison, Olinger, Zook,
 Do for themselves without papers or books.
 We're glad to induce you to stand with us here
 And admire our friends Johnson, Means, and Hoyt
 And also these folks who would bring up the line
 Jordon, Morrison, Long: with much that's sublime.

And now we would bid each one of your grace,
 To look at our Juniors each, straight in the face.
 And hope with us all while now that you may,
 That we'll be sturdy Seniors some bright sunny day.

Freshman Activities

We, the Freshman Class of 1923-'24, have the distinction of being the largest class in I.S.N.U.'s history. In fact, our numbers are so great that we realize, as the year draws to a close, that many opportunities for friendship must necessarily have slipped by.

The first social event after our organization in the fall was a weiner roast held in "Bossy Park." During the winter term a party and dance helped to bring the class together for an informal good time.

The Freshman Class, too, has had its share in school activities. We have been well represented by Melvin Clark on the Student Council and by Carl Firley on the Athletic Board of Control. Cleveland "Red" and "Von" Firley, Patton and Sheppleman received N's in football. Freshman Varsity basketball N men were Beck, Clark, Gallaspie, Roberts, and Riggs.

Among the freshmen on the debating teams were Helen Edwards, Dorothy Hibarger, Fred Graff, Glenn Parkin, and Frank Weller. Honor was brought to our class when, at the Inter-Society Contest, Florence Becker took first place in reading and Bertha Rhoadarmer in voice. Lillian Gottschalk was a member of the winning debating team at this same contest. We are glad to mention Flora Seass as the successful reader in the Edwards Medal Contest. Fred Graff won the Livingston Cup, offered for the first time this year.

Mrs. Pricer, our class advisor, and Mr. Clark, our president, should be especially mentioned for their helpful cooperation in all committee work and for their leadership in bringing us together into a working organization. As a class we hope that the reputation of I.S.N.U. will have been enlarged by our first year of attendance here.

This marks the close of the fifth year of the life of the Student Council on the I. S. N. U. Campus. The work of this year has not differed materially from that of former years, although several new problems have been met. The Council has approved the formation of two new clubs during the year: The Home Economics Club and the Physical Education Club, and the reorganization of the Manual Training Club.

Two representatives of the council attended a convention of college students held at Riverside, February 9-10 for the purpose of discussing present campus problems, the work of the convention being reported by the delegates at general exercises.

Lecture Board

The members of the Lecture Board for the school year 1923-'24 were: from the faculty, Mildred McConnell, E. A. Turner, and R. H. Linkins; from the student body, Goldie Baker, Dorothy Graff, Wilbur Hoffman, William A. Miller, Parke Simer.

OFFICERS

W. A. MILLER.....	President
WILBUR HOFFMAN	First Vice President
DOROTHY GRAFF	Second Vice President
PARKE SIMER	Treasurer
R. H. LINKINS.....	Secretary

Interesting musical and reading numbers were both included in the course. The first number, given October 19 was a concert by the Chicago Civic Operatic Trio; the second of November was an interesting lecture by the Canadian humorist, Stephen Leacock. During the winter term, on February 28, we were delightfully entertained by the Russian Cathedral Quartet. On April 7, General Allen, Head of the American Army of Occupation in Germany, appeared in a lecture; and in May the pianist Dumesnil and the singer Madam Pavloska appeared in a joint concert.

The Athletic Board of Control

The athletic association membership consists of students and faculty members of the Normal School. Each of the four classes sending representatives as follows:

Freshmen—one, Sophomores—two, Juniors—one, and Seniors—one. The faculty members on the board include the director or "Coach" of Athletics and three members elected by the faculty.

The offices of the organization consist of a secretary and treasurer elected from the student members, a president, who is the athletic director.

Most of the work falls upon the chairman and treasurer for, while looking after the finances of the Athletic Association is not all the work done, it probably makes up most of the work. It can be said that the board of this year has a better financial standing than has any previous board.

The Board not only confirms all inter-collegiate and inter-scholastic schedules, but it awards the official N's to those who are eligible to receive them. This year the board, in trying to recognize the services of those who were faithful to the service on the squads but were unable to obtain high enough standards to receive the Major N, tried to adopt a minor N for acknowledgment of their services. For some unknown reason this action did not meet with much favor with the student body so only a few were awarded, and those to football men. It is the sincere hope of the Board that another year the students will realize the purpose of the minor N and encourage the wearing of it by those men who have served so faithfully.

Oratorical Board

Oral expression this year has been pushed more than ever before. More interest has been shown by the student body. Large numbers of students tried out in reading, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and debating. In addition to the Edwards' Medals that have been given in reading and oratory, a Livingston's Loving Cup was given this year and will be given in succeeding years to the winner in extempore speaking.

For much of this accomplishment the members of the oratorical board are responsible. They have given unsparingly their time and energy in the stimulation of interest in reading and speaking and in directing the contests. Miss McConnell and Mr. Sorrenson gave much time to the training of the contestants, adding much to the quality of the contests.

The members of the board were:

Philadelphia

This year has certainly been a brilliant one for Philadelphia. Of course, it is no wonder, for we fed our new active members, crackers and milk the night we initiated them into our society. This seemed to stimulate their minds until now they are almost literary geniuses.

With such a start we plunged forth into the realms of fame. We were such a sensation to the Homecomers in our hobo outfits and really, we did make quite a striking appearance. Moreover, Philadelphia had the distinction of winning third place in the parade. That evening we entertained the old members with a special program after which a few of the older Philadelphians related some of their experiences in the literary society way back in the nineties.

It happened, somehow, that we didn't win the contest, even though it may seem strange after having won so many contests in the years gone by. Nevertheless we had boundless enthusiasm which seemed to tower way above that of our friendly neighbor across the way. Our gold and black head bands and beautiful decorations were admired by everyone. It seemed as though the sun itself was shining in the auditorium making the Phils look so very brilliant.

One of the glories of the year was the fact that Flora Seass, a Philadelphian, won the Edwards medal. This year, five of the six contestants were Philadelphians. Cornelius Henze, Kenneth Pringle, Raymond Fildes and Robert English won places on the university debate teams. So you see Philadelphia has been quite prominent in many activities this year.

Our presidents have been the best that could be found anywhere. Dorothy Graff served as president the fall term, Paul Rohe the winter term, and Charles Hornback the spring term. With such leaders as the above aided by willing helpers the year 1923-24 has been made a great success for our dear old Philadelphia. Thanks to our Sponsor, Prof. R. G. Buzzard!

Wrightonia

Wrightonia, what is it you do?
You push the public speakers through.
Wrightonia, what else do you do?
You help the music students too.
Wrightonia, what more do you do?
You stand for friendships tried and true.
Wrightonia, what best do you do?
You boost for the contest, and show 'em Who's Who!

The spirit in Wrightonia, this year, has been a notable feature. Credit is due to the active work of our presidents, John Chiddix, Merret Winegarner, and Lillian Bahr; to the committees in charge of the different lines of work; to the other members; and to the faculty sponsors. As the societies now limit their active membership to fifty, with the plan of having try-outs and initiations, much interest has been shown as to who these fifty shall be. The fine appearance of our hall with its newly painted walls, clean carpets, and draperies and a new curtain for the stage, too, is a source of inspiration. The old parlor in front and a portion at the rear have been taken over for class rooms, but we have plenty of room and a cozy home without them. The time of meeting has been changed from Saturday to Monday evening.

At Homecoming time, Wrightonia colors floated in conspicuous places while a special effort was made to greet old friends and members. Among the old time members who came back were the Misses Ellen and Florence Edwards, daughters of Dr. Edwards, the early president of I. S. N. U.

The annual contest showed excellent talent and faithful work. We were winners again this year.

The regular meetings carried such titles as the Kentucky program, the art program, the peace program, and the Lincoln program. Do they not sound worth while? Keep going! Wrightonia!

The Varsity Club

The 1923-24 school year was a banner year for the Varsity Club. Its efforts during the past year helped prove to the school that the club is a worthy organization and that its influence has made Normal a better I.S.N.U. Its aim, to foster good fellowship on the campus and good sportsmanship in athletics, was successfully carried out. In the Varsity Club, the men have found out that they have a real friend; it is the rudder to the men's social life on the campus.

From the very beginning of the school year, the Varsity Club hit its stride and kept it. Its members fully realized that the life and spirit of the club depended upon a membership which thoroughly believes in its ideals and is active in their support. In this respect the club was strengthened by the initiation this year of ninety new members who pledged themselves unqualifiedly to its program. The membership now is three times as large as it ever was; this shows that the club is progressing.

The Varsity Club greatly enjoyed the small part it played in making the 1923 Homecoming a grand success. It did its share in making the program interesting for those old students who came back to enjoy a day of reminiscing.

Many dances were given by the Varsity Club during the fall, winter, and spring terms. These dances were well attended and greatly enjoyed. The best of music was always furnished. A Fell Hall Varsity Party was held November 10 in Fell Hall. Fell Hall girls were in "the seventh heaven" that night because there were more men present than there were women. The chief diversion thruout the evening was dancing; those who did not indulge in that art, played cards. All who attended declared that they had a very pleasant evening's entertainment. Thanks, Fell Hall.

The Annual Football Banquet was held at the Woman's Exchange Building, December 13. Mr. R. H. Linkins presided as toastmaster; it proved to be a lucky day for "Doc" altho it was the 13th. At the banquet, the real spirit of the club was much in evidence and all who attended enjoyed the talks and all the trimmings. The Annual Basket Ball Banquet was held at the LaFayette Inn, February 26. Mr. H. A. Bone, the toastmaster, kept the ninety followers of "Swish-Swish" well entertained thruout the course of the whole evening. It was well attended and will be long remembered by all who were present. The Baseball Banquet was a grand affair and well represented the good work that is always being done by the Varsity Club. The club gave sweaters to second year men who won their "N" on the athletic field.

Fell Hall's waxed floor and Goforth's Black and Gold Orchestra furnished to the Varsity Club members the inducements for a good time March 8.

The Annual Stunt Show was an outstanding event on the year's calendar of the Varsity Club. It was interesting and very entertaining and can go on record as a great achievement of the club.

The Annual Dinner Dance given at the Maplewood Country Club, May 24, was the treat of the season. It was well attended and a delightful time was had by all.

Much good work was done by the club during the year. The grounds about the memorial stone, dedicated to the I.S.N.U. heroes who gave their all, that democracy might live, were made more attractive by the planting of shrubbery and flowers. The club feels that it is a privilege to be allowed to take over the care of this bit of ground which is sacred to all I.S.N.U.

Men of the Varsity Club have profited greatly by the closing year's work and are looking forward expectantly to a more profitable year next year. Better scholarship; better sportsmanship; and better social life at I.S.N.U. is its slogan for 1924-1925.

Early in September over one hundred women students responded to the call for volunteers in the Glee Club.

The first meeting was held in Room 33 at 6:30 on Monday evening, September 17, 1923. They met regularly throughout the year on Monday and Thursday evening and practiced from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock.

A wiener roast was given in "Bossy Park" in October, which was well attended by all of the girls in the Glee Club, and several Faculty members.

This year a pin was selected, which is to be the standard pin for I.S.N.U. Glee Club members. It is an eighth note with letters I.S.N.U. engraved upon it.

During the school year the Womens Glee Club and Varsity Glee Club gave three joint concerts in the auditorium.

The first concert was given November 17, 1923, and the second on March 28, 1924. A sacred concert also was given on Baccalaureate Sunday.

Varsity Glee Club

Nine years have passed since Normal could boast of an I.S.N.U. Men's Glee Club. It was in 1915 that Normal turned from her doors this last Glee Club. At the coming of the Great War, it became the patriotic duty of all great and small institutions to lend, and if need be, give the hopes of its future to the sinning of this war. The boys who would have filled the rooms of I.S.N.U. with their melodious voices filled the ranks of the army in that death struggle for democracy. But with the dawn approaching we beheld a brighter day, the seats in Old Normal's auditorium began to fill, and with a call from Mr. Westhoff in the fall of 1923, there came a response from two dozen male voices echoing thru the halls and corridors of I.S.N.U. These men have remained faithful to that cause and proved their worth shown by the expressions of the audiences who have heard them sing. By consent of the Varsity Club, this organization became known as the Varsity Glee Club. It was organized by electing Charles Hornback for president and Joe Lucas for secretary and treasurer.

The club is greatly indebted to Mr. Westhoff, the director, for his unswerving patience and undaunted spirit making that which today we are so proud. Though man's work is great yet it falls short of a completeness without the help of woman. So we must not forget our accompanist, Miss Helen Reece, who added this feminine touch by her marked ability, ever faithfulness, and good will.

Lowell Mason Club

This is the second year in the history of the Lowell Mason Club and it has been in every way successful.

The meetings are held on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock of the even weeks of each term. At this time we discuss various current musical events and problems of the music teacher. We study and learn to appreciate the best in music.

The year began with a big initiation party at the home of Miss Cassaday, for the new members. First year girls learned that enrolling in the club wasn't all that was necessary to become a genuine Lowell Mason.

At Homecoming time the Lowell Mason girls blossomed out in green and red costumes to form a band in the Hobo parade. We didn't win the prize, but we had lots of fun. After the parade we all went to Room 33, which had been turned into a gaily decorated dining hall. There we enjoyed a 12 o'clock dinner given in honor of the club alumni. The club pin, a small g-clef was presented to Miss More and Mr. Westhoff.

On February 28, during General Exercises, Lowell Mason club presented one of the most enjoyable programs of two-piano numbers, vocal solos and ensemble work.

That music teachers can forget their school room dignity was shown at a party given by Gertrude McClure and Lois Hovey during the spring term. All members were dressed in kid costume, and every one had a jolly time. We played kid games, ate kid refreshments and went home at 10 o'clock.

Quoting from Mr. Felmley, "Most folks sing for enjoyment; but these folks sing for a living."

The Band

The I.S.N.U. band is an organization of which Old Normal may be justly proud. The band is composed of twenty-two persons, who meet once each week for intensive practice. There have been only a few public appearances, but these few have been most favorably received. Our band has been greatly handicapped by the absence of mellophones and trombones. The heavy program of Mr. Westhoff has prevented his teaching these instruments. Standard marches, overtures, medleys, waltzes, and some of Mr. Westhoff's compositions are included in the repertoire of our band. The band owes most of its credit to the able direction, efficiency, and interest of Mr. Westhoff. Without the untiring enthusiasm of the members and of the devoted director, the band could not meet with such favorable criticism.

Orchestra

The I.S.N.U. orchestra has had a very happy and successful year under the splendid leadership of Mr. Westhoff.

Every Monday an hour was faithfully devoted to practise with the result that some difficult selections were mastered. The orchestra furnished music for the Jester Play, the Homecoming reception, the University High Junior play, the Freshman, Junior, and Senior plays. It also gave short concerts at General Exercises in the winter and spring terms. Its contribution of music for the University High and I.S.N.U. Commencement exercises concluded a very pleasant and successful year.

The brushes have been busy in the Art Club this year. During the fall term, Miss Cromer took charge, and we did some very interesting work. We did a great variety of things, including the making of beads, decorating candle sticks, and carving ivory. Some very pretty pieces were made, and we all agreed that the hour a week was spent in a most profitable way.

During the winter and spring terms, Professor H. Francis James gave instruction in the use of reliefs, which was unusually interesting. We decorated very pretty boxes, trays, picture frames, and numerous other things. The color effects thus produced proved very beautiful. The club also did monotypes and some sketching from life.

In the "Hobo" parade at Homecoming time, a member of the Art Club won $5,—the individual prize for the best costume, while the Club won second place as the best organization represented in the parade.

The membership of the Art Club this year has been larger than that of former years which shows that the Art Department of the university is growing rapidly. We have accomplished a great deal in the club, under the leadership of our very efficient president, Norma Riehl. When you see the exhibit you will know that we've been working this year.

Le Cercle Français avait en une année très prospereuse. Il n'y avait pas beaucoup de réunions pendant l'année, mais ceux que nous avons eu étaient très intéressantes. Peut-être la réunion la plus intéressante était quand Mlle. Whitten nous a parlé des coutumes de l' Université à Grenoble où elle assistait. Monsieur James, aussi, nous a parlé des peintures françaises. La société comprit les élèves des classes françaises.

Aside from class room instruction the teacher must meet the problems of the community. To discuss these and to gain some knowledge of their solution, the Hieronymus Chapter of the American Country Life Association was established April 11, 1922. Since then it has been very active in this work.

The members this year feel they have had most profitable as well as enjoyable meetings together. Forty young people have met regularly and from their beaming faces as they leave for home one would guess, and guess rightly, that they had been having a royal treat.

The general topic for the year was: "Amusement, Recreational and Sociability Activities of Juveniles and Young People."

All of the members no doubt, will remember the waffle breakfast at Homecoming and will look forward to many others just as merry.

"We are saved by the community."

Home Economics Department

Education in Home Economics was introduced at Illinois State Normal University in 1909. A two-year course in Foods, and a two-year course in Clothing were offered. Students finishing either of these courses were granted diplomas. Students finishing both courses with other required work were granted degrees.

A Smith-Hughes curriculum, leading to a degree, was offered in 1918. Since that date thirteen women have received the degree of B.Ed. in this course:

1920

Blanche Sutton Moore (Mrs.), Home Advisor of Champaign County

1921

Zoe Garlough, Instructor, Illinois State Normal University

JESTER NOTES

The Jesters haven't done so much to brag about this year; but what's been done we'll sum up now and tell to you right here. We've had a number of good times and lots of work, of course. We started out with Mr. Pim, of fun and work, a source. Rehearsals came by day and night (one night in dark and rain) but "Pim-ming" is such jolly sport, we'd like to do it again. A party at the Normal farm was scrappy 'nough, no doubt, but all the scraps were on the floor, from cutting pictures out. Initiation next took place the fifteenth of November, and what occurred that chilly nite the Jesters will remember. Two more initiations then in winter and spring term—that they were shocking times at best, the victims can affirm. The Gen. Ex. crowd beheld the played called What they think, by Crothers; ten dollars from our treasury, enjoyment by the others. Well, this is just about the "all" of the Jesters' little bit of doing things about the school. And now it's told, we'll quit.

Do you remember when—

Jimmy proposed to the show window model?
 Karl portrayed the latest styles?
 We got our little life histories?
 We practiced by candle light?
 You got your scroll?
 Everybody slammed Lady Mac?
 We always laughed at the wrong moment?
 Robert English learned to smoke?
 Johnny became an artist?

Kappa Delta Pi is an honorary educational fraternity having chapters in the various types of educational institutions of collegiate rank that undertake the preparation of teachers. There are chapters connected with State Teachers Colleges and City Teachers College; with land grant colleges such as the State College of Pennsylvania; with endowed schools like Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa; with Departments of Education in state universities, as at the University of Illinois; and with Schools of Education, such as Teachers College of Columbia University.

Mu Chapter was installed at the Illinois State Normal University on March 4, 1922. Since that time our membership has increased steadily by the initiation of a class each term, and now our number has reached eighty-two, including faculty and student members. The candidates initiated the first summer term last year were: Alice Anderson, Frances Lawson, Ray Brown, John Chiddix, Ernest Dickey, Dorothy Garrett, Bessie Hibarger, John Hutchinson, Grace Nix, John Price, Dorr Simer, and Alma Vaninger. The members of the fall class were Dorothy Rodman, Hilda Morrow, and Hugh Garnett. The members of the winter class were: Agnes Allen, Florence Blackburn, Veda Bolt, Raymond Fildes, Celia Gebhart, Ella Long, and Maurine Moore.

A banquet was served at Home Coming affording an opportunity for a reunion of the members. The Chapter Counselor, Mr. Schroeder, acted as toastmaster on this occasion. Toasts were given by the president, Parke Simer, by our president last year, Mrs. Stella Henderson, by our treasurer, Mr. Chiddix, and by President Felmley.

The social meeting of the winter term was enjoyable and very profitable due to the fact that Dr. Davidson, President of the Illinois Wesleyan University presented a paper on "The Modern Study of the Bible."

The chapter has planned throughout the year for the biennial convocation held this year at Chicago on February twenty-second and twenty-third. Mr. Schroeder represented the chapter at this meeting. He gave a most thorough and interesting report at a social meeting held early in the Spring term.

The last social event of the year was the annual banquet held during commencement week. The program consisted of toasts as well as greetings and farewells. All who attended this meeting, and the others throughout the year feel that Kappa Delta Pi has meant much to them in their preparation for successful teaching.

The Hopkins Agriculture Club

The Hopkins Agriculture Club has just passed through the most important year of its history.

The fall term started off with a boom that opened the eyes of all those who attended Homecoming and witnessed the Hobo Parade. Much credit for the success of the fall term was due to the president, Wilbur Hoffman, who had the necessary punch to guide the energies of the Club in the right direction. The club also won an unquestioned championship last fall in Curriculum football. It seems that the other departments knew when they were well off.

The winter term, under the able guidance of Lyle Hill, was also a successful term. Although the "Hay-shakers" didn't win the basket-ball tournament, they did make the other teams feel uncertain. The meetings of the term consisted of some good talks and important business matters.

When the weather became some milder and the pussy-willow opened its buds, we found another capable man as general of the Club. Paul Jack started the term with a contest between the two teams within the club. The contest continued throughout the term, and ended with the losing team giving the winners a banquet. The annual track and field meet, was also held, the winner being presented with the "Hopkins' Cup" to hold in their sacred possession for one year. This cup was first given by the club last year.

Kindergarten Club

The Kindergarten Club includes seventy members. This is the largest membership in the history of the club. Meetings are held each month. The purpose of the club is to discuss problems relating to Elementary Education and to promote good social feeling amongst its members.

The first event of the year was a hayrack ride to the country, followed by a wiener roast.

Homecoming offered a fine opportunity to welcome back the alumni. The Kindergarten luncheon given at the Y.W.C.A. in Bloomington during homecoming week was largely attended. A Children's party was given in November when each member of the Club impersonated some child in the kindergarten. The morning session, conducted by one of the members, furnished fun in abundance. In January, Miss Katharyn Cowles of Bloomington gave the program. The Cinderella Silhouettes and puppet plays which were presented at this time were enjoyed by a large audience.

The other programs have been of a more serious nature. Miss Marie Claussenius, instructor in the Francis Parker School in Chicago, came to us in March to discuss "Art for Children of the Kindergarten and Primary Grades."

To Miss Lee, the advisor of the Club, and to Miss Schmidt of the kindergarten department, much of the success of the meetings is due.

The chief purpose of the Latin Club is to provide an opportunity for those interested in the classics to meet for the discussion of topics relating to the study of the classics. A minor purpose is to arouse greater interest in the study of the classics.

Formerly membership was limited to students in the university but has now been extended to include the Juniors and Seniors of University High School. The general topic for discussion this year was "The Influence of the Classics on Modern Life." Some interesting programs showing how great a part Latin plays in our life today were given. Each member during the course of the year presented some phase of the subject.

A large part of the success of the club is due to Miss Carver. Her zeal and tireless efforts in behalf of the club have been our inspiration.

The Manual Arts Club was reorganized during the winter term. A need was felt among the members of the Manual Training Department for an organization of some sort and it was thru this that the reorganization took place. Mr. L. S. Wood of Bloomington addressed the club during the winter term. A larger and more extensive program is planned for the year 1924-25.

The Nature Study Club

The Nature Study Club has been very active during the year. Besides the regular monthly programs, all of which have been interesting and instructive the Club has enjoyed a wiener roast, a party, and an outdoor breakfast.

The Club holds a membership in "The Wild Flower Preservation Society of America." Through the work of this organization a law was passed in 1923 making it unlawful to destroy certain wild flowers that are already rare in many parts of the state.

Pi Kappa Delta

Π Κ Δ

One of the new and beneficial organizations on our campus is the Illinois Eta Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, the national forensic fraternity. The chapter was installed as a result of the feeling of a need of some means of welding together the public speakers of I.S.N.U. as well as giving them a bond of relationship with debaters and orators of other colleges. Only those are eligible to membership who have participated in intercollegiate debates or oratorical contests, or who have coached such contestants or shown themselves to be faculty members possessing unusual interest in forensic endeavor. The official emblem of the organization is a key. The setting in the key designates both the order and degree of its owner.

The charter members of the local chapter were the coach and members of the Varsity debate teams of last year, namely,—

Prof. Fred S. Sorrenson
Ralph W. Stone

Dorothy Graff
Kenneth Pringle
O. C. Echols

Roy L. Spires
Freeman Goodwin

Since its installation late last spring, several former I.S.N.U. students and a number of present I.S.N.U. debaters and orators have become members. Three interested faculty members, President Felmley, Dean O. L. Manchester, and Professor W. A. L. Beyer were initiated into the chapter as honorary members at a meeting of members at the home of Mr. Sorrenson on March 10.

The aim of the local unit of Pi Kappa Delta has been to promote interest in all public speaking activity and to stimulate other phases of literary performance. One of its achievements has been the sponsoring and establishment of a lyceum bureau. The idea and purpose of the bureau has been to utilize the talent of I.S.N.U. students in programs which may be presented for organizations, such as schools, clubs, and churches, in Normal, Bloomington, and surrounding communities.

My River

The prairies of Illinois are beautiful, yet they do not completely satisfy me. They lack one element of beauty; there is no river. Sometimes as I sit here and view the monotonous stretch of land unbroken by a flowing stream, desire seizes me, and I feel that I must take the next train and go where I can feast my eyes upon the beautiful Father of Waters.

No other river appeals to me as does the Mississippi. I know it in all of its many moods. I have traveled upon it in all kinds of weather, at all times of day and in every season of the year. It has charmed me, fascinated me, and even frightened me.

I can picture clearly its appearance today. It is having a sullen mood and lies brooding with small restless waves ceaselessly irritating the shore. The drizzle is turned to mist over the surface of the water and the dull, leaden sky is reflected. When I look upon it in this mood, it seems to be reflecting all that I feel; for the gray drizzle creates the same depression within me. Tomorrow, if the sun shines, the river will gleam and beam with happiness. The water will break the sun-light into points of brilliant color and the current will rush along, eager to reach the journey's end.

In early morning when the first rays of light appear and strike the white sentinels of bluffs on one side and the low lying sandbars and islands on the south, the light of dawn will clear away the dark in the same way that the light of knowledge removes ignorance and doubt from my mind. And then, at sunset, the day has a perfect ending if I can drift into the sunlit waters, or glide noiselessly along a moon-lit pathway that seems to hold a pot of gold for me at the trail's end.

Just as our lives change, so the river changes with the seasons. The youth or spring of the year finds the river bounding with life and eagerness, rushing madly along breaking all rules of convention. In summer it becomes a mature, well-behaved stream, sensible and reliable. In autumn it moves still more sedately, and in winter, though bonds of ice seem to have it securely locked, and imprisoned, the flow of life at its heart remains unchecked.

This is why I love the river. It reflects my every mood, meets my every whim. It cheers me when I am sad, plays with me when I am happy, feeds my thirst for beauty, and serves me as only a true friend could. When its broad waters meet my eye again, it will be as if I gazed once more into the countenance of a very dear friend.

NORMA RIEHL.

Faculty Feet

On those days, so very few and far apart, when General Exercises are a bore and one must find something entertaining to do, it is interesting to study faculty feet. On such days they are likely to be somewhat restless, being swung back and forth, or put down and picked up again quite frequently. This is a great advantage as they may be viewed from so many angles.

There are some well set up masculine feet which show to advantage brightly polished, self respecting low-cuts. These are usually black and are topped off with socks of various hues and textures, sombre, dignified black silk or cotton hose, and taste revealing hose of brown, green or gray wool of plain or unusual weave. Then there are mighty, spreading feet encased in heavy, loose fitting shoes made to give comfort and service. These may be dark brown, tan, or black and are always surmounted, when accurate observation is possible, by socks of plain black, gray, brown or white cotton just like fifty million other such socks one has seen. It is quite possible these shoes are polished occasionally; in some cases, in fact, it seems probable that it has been rather recently, perhaps no longer ago than last Sunday. Because they are so comfortable and homely one feels a kindly tolerance for their shortcomings so far as appearances are concerned.

The feminine faculty feet are most interesting. They are so varied in style. There are nicely formed feet shod in low heeled sport shoes, others in cuban heeled low-cuts, and still others in pumps of various kinds and descriptions. These are always either dark brown or black and are carefully polished. The trim, shapely ankles, and so forth, are almost always covered with stockings to match the shoes, but here and there a pair of gray or sand colored clad extremities give that splash of light and color so much to be desired these days in all decorative schemes. These feet show a wide range of feminine nature, from the possible clinging vine to the independent woman. Some show their owners have had to learn the six point system for judging shoes. The toe of the shoe must be as broad as the foot. Horrors! The heel must be as big as the heel of the foot and very low. Worse and more of it! The owners of these poor feet have not the opportunity given the most fortunate students, to dance gleefully and gracefully around the gymnasium in their bare feet while coaxing their sagging and discouraged arches to their proper height. But to form the proper contrast, that almost extinct variety, a pair of three inch high French heels can be found if one is only observant.

Having exhausted the study of individual feet, that mildly exhilarating game of solitaire may be played by matching face and feet by guess. Unfortunately the faculty are so beset by habit that they generally sit in the same seat, day after day. This is a great drawback. The only uncertainty left in the game after a few plays is in the dimness and obscurity of the back lines. The rules of the game are simple. The player sits quietly in his seat and between plays glances at the speaker. He looks first at the feet and then guesses the face that belongs to them. He then verifies the correctness of his guess. If he cannot guess the face of the faculty member from his feet after several minutes of careful pondering, he must watch the speaker's face for twice that length of time before satisfying his curiosity. There are two bells that ring toward the close of the game. At the first the player begins to gather his wrap about him and get his books together. He then picks out the most interesting remaining guess. The second bell rings and then the organ booms out. The game is over and it's time to go to class. The time during General Exercises has as usual passed quickly and pleasantly.

Diaries I Have Written

I begin with a confession—whether of weakness, or of strength, I may not say. Withal, it is the confession of a secret long-concealed 'neath the common place of every-day existence. I keep—I have kept—a diary!!!

Laden with secret revelations, it lies snugly, and, I hope, safely, packed away amid last year's summer frocks, the tender souvenirs of past pleasures, and a novel or two, tactfully sheltered from the too-searching public eye.

Did I say "it"? Rather should I have said "they"; long since have these inspired out-pourings burst the confines of that first smudged volume.

Down in the dark corner of an ancient trunk, smothered in a fragile mass of confetti and serpentine, cowers a tiny, laboriously printed notebook. Its pages fall open, limply:—

"I got up at eight o'clock this morning. I went to school, and got there on time. I got my report card and I only had one F, and that was in Conduct. I think Miss Norris is awfully silly. I went to bed at nine o'clock."

Thus the effusions of youth!!

A second notebook is covered with gaudy cretonne, rescued from the scraps in mother's work basket. How that touch of the aesthetic delighted the artistic soul of a nine-year-old, in pigtailed!

"I think John is horrible. I wish he'd keep out of other people's affairs. He found my Countess Van de Vere pocket-book, and ran off with my really-truly gold watch, that mama gave me because it fell in the wash-tub, and wouldn't run. Marjorie and I are shure going to fix him, and his old secret society!"

If I remember correctly, Marjorie and I did "fix him." In fact, we gave an exclusive entertainment, featuring the "High Lee Amusing Company"—(my own touch!)—at which the net proceeds were twelve pins, and to which we pointedly failed to invite our enemies, the boys!

Peering from behind a worn-out gold slipper lie two reddish books; one is rather small, and is crammed, with round, careful letters; the other is larger, and is encased in a brilliant paper cover disclosing the flamboyant charms of a blasè woman, in purple.

"Confessions of a Wife," by some long-forgotten author; it is a bit of melodramatic trash which delighted our too-sensitive souls, and aroused in us bitter tears of sympathy for the abused heroine. We enshrined "Adrienne" in the innermost recesses of our hearts, like a pretty toy, to be taken out, occasionally wept over, and hidden away again.

The other little book was, as I hoped, similar to the first one in more than the mere matter of color.

"I am gazing out the window. Everything is very wet. It is like a ghost outside. The wind is blowing hard. I wish I could travel on the wind and feel the eckstasy of divine freedom, like Adrienne in the story I've been reading. I think it is very interesting, and just what I feel like, too."

There is a divine sympathy, indeed.

Somewhere in the last years of grammar school, or the Freshie year at high school, came a period of self-consciousness. The diary was replaced by the more respectable Memory Book. There were a few diaries still extinct among "our crowd." Long and laborious were the hours we spent, deciphering a pilfered volume, written in code; and long and suffering were the days of the unfortunate author thereof. Calf-love is always amusing to everyone but the star performers. And to them it may be bliss, or sheer tragedy. In this case, I think there was a transition, perhaps, from the former, to the latter!

INDEX

Our Memory Books, however, were the subject of varied competition, and interest. Pressed roses, gum wrappers, or friendship pennies were coveted by the persistent owners, for the sake of their more or less tender associations.

A bulging volume, reminiscent of hours of labor, reposes peacefully in the bottom of that battered trunk. Overflowing from its sides are streamers of serpentine, tasseled cords, from dance programs, and smudged basket-ball tickets.

It lies in the aura of an untidy overflow, a monument to the days of the Memory Book.

Diaries, and Memory Books, and Souvenirs; Souvenirs, and Memory Books, and Diaries! Are they the visual remains of a decaying instinct to preserve the past? Or are they merely the expression of a thwarted, but persistent, ego? It is a matter of debate, even among us who are firmly addicted to the habit, and therefore best informed as to its possibilities.

Perhaps we have fond visions of ourselves, silver-haired, but still attractive, surrounded by an entranced and admiring circle of our grandchildren, while we disclose the secrets of a prodigiously interesting past. Or perhaps we are merely actuated by a desire for a mental outlet, an exhaust, to lower the pressure of a superfluity of emotions.

Be that as it may, our diaries live, as monuments to our folly, to our egotism, if nothing more.

LOIS M. FOSTER.

Spectacles

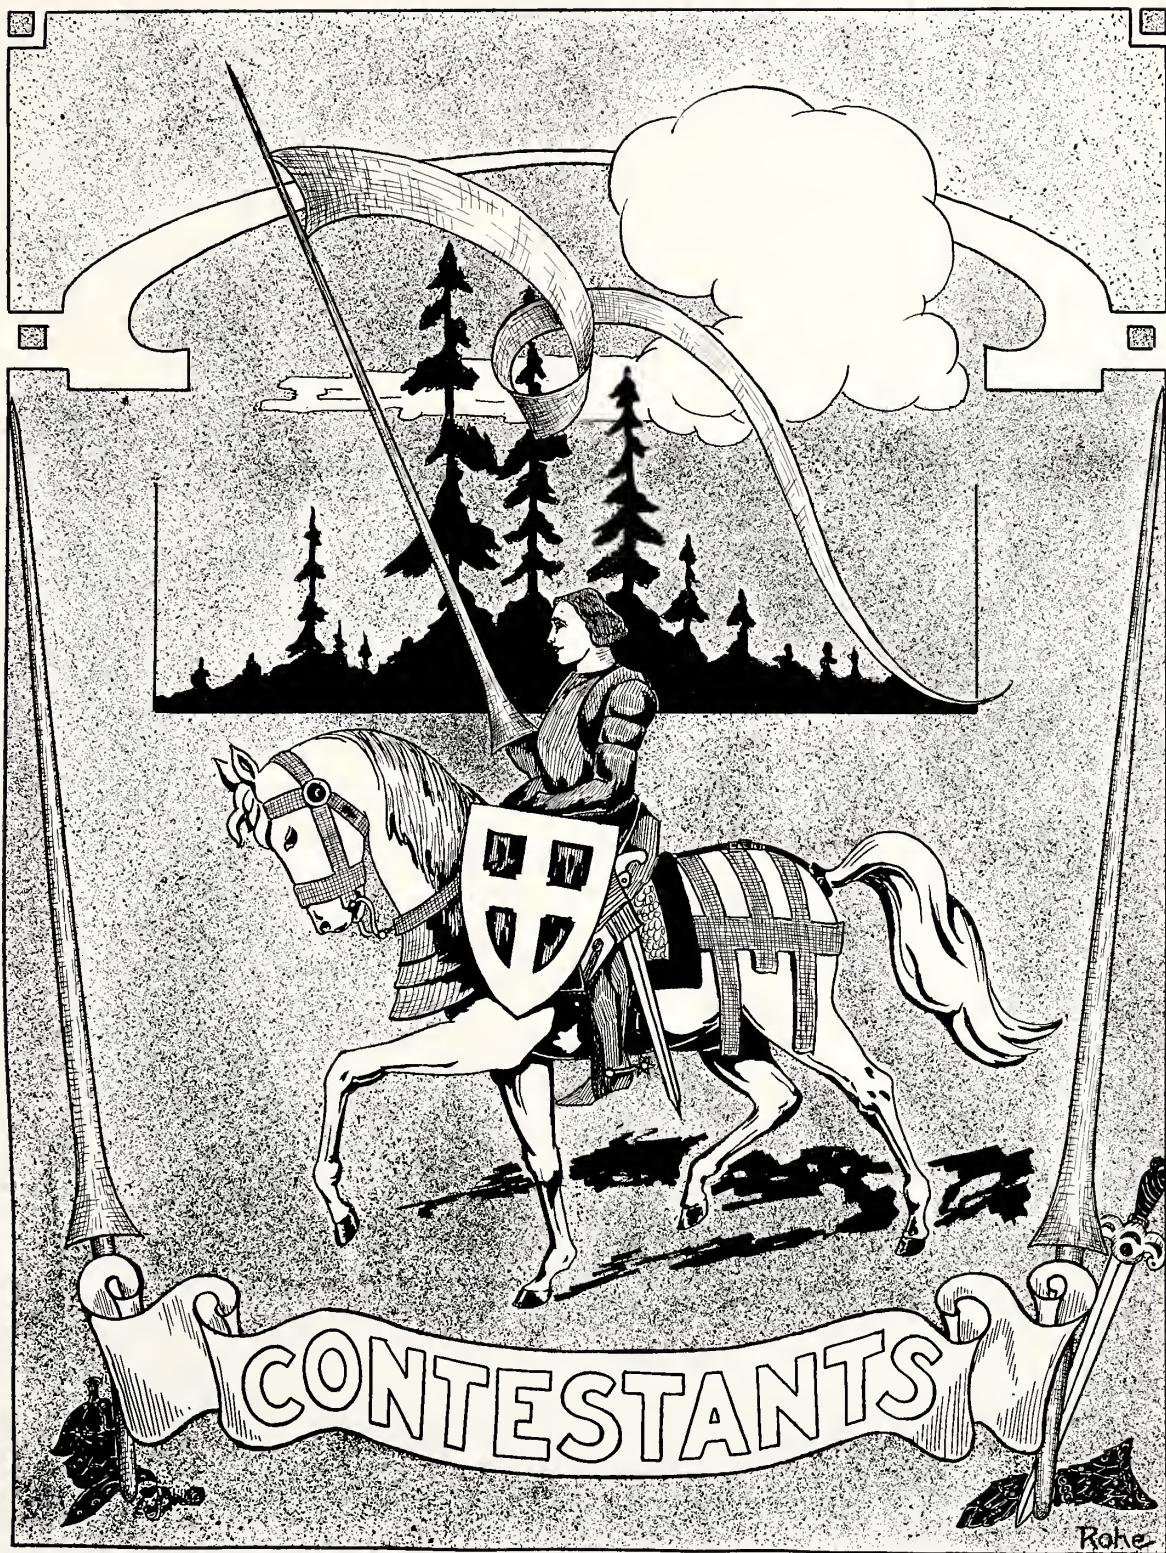

Spectacles! That word pencilled only one sketch upon my mental canvas—the spectacled countenance of Theodore Roosevelt. My seven year old brain could not connect anything but Roosevelt's visage with a pair of glasses having a black cord attached to it. How I set my affections on that silk black cord. But the glasses? Well, I could manage them; anything—just so I could wear the black cord.

Gliding in on one of those rare days in June of my eighth year, I thought my chance had come. I could almost feel the silkiness of the cord when an oculist advised me to wear glasses. I was happy. "It comes to those who wait," I mused. It came all right, a beautiful pair of silver framed spectacles and a pair of silver bows to secure them before the eyes instead of the black silken cord. I complained, but mother said I was too young to wear glasses with a black cord. At that moment I knew just how Napoleon felt after Wellington put over a perfect drop kick, and won the game at Waterloo.

For two years I wore those silver framed goggles, as I called them. I was growing old; my mother said "only old men wear black cords," so again I began to dream. I dreamt of the days when I could strut around among my friends at school with a dignified air, and play with the black silken cord of my spectacles. Again I went to an eye specialist, with my mother, for a new pair of glasses. My spirits ran high, I was going away on a great adventure—Jason and his Golden Fleece had nothing on me. Just think, I was going to bring back the spectacles with the black silken cord. I came back as crest-fallen as Rip Van Winkle's dog. I wore a lovely pair of rimless glasses with ten carat gold bows. Everybody wore them mother said; but the following week I saw a picture of Roosevelt in the paper and he still wore the spectacles with the black cord. Mother must have been wrong when she said that everybody wore rimless glasses.

Since then, I have worn every make of spectacles from the rimless kind to Harold Lloyd specials, and never have I been fortunate enough to wear the spectacles with the black silken cord. Some day when I am old enough, mother says—well, you know what she said.

Inter-Society Contest

At the sixty-fourth annual Inter-Society Contest, held in the I.S.N.U. Auditorium, Monday evening, December 17, the Wrightonians won a victory which tied the two societies in the total number of contests won by each. Next year's contest, therefore, promises to be one of the most hotly contested in the history of the school. The fact that this year's contest was won by the narrow margin of one point is enough to show that both societies are working hard, and that the issue of next year's contest is very uncertain.

LIVINGSTON CUP CONTESTANTS

Extempore Speaking

The first annual extempore speaking contest was held in general exercises on Thursday, March 20. This contest was made possible by the generosity of A. Livingston & Sons of Bloomington. Mr. Milton Livingston of that firm has offered to present the winner of the contest each year, a beautiful silver loving cup.

Although interest in collegiate and intercollegiate extempore speaking has been increasing rapidly during the past few years, the Illinois State Normal University is one of the first colleges in the Middle West to establish an intramural contest.

The general topic used in extempore speaking contests this year by the teachers colleges of the Middle West was the Eighteenth Amendment. Soon after the Christmas holidays some twenty students began studying the topic. In February fourteen students tried out for places in the final contest. Miss Milner prepared a bibliography on the subject of Prohibition which was very helpful to those interested. A week before the contest ten sub-topics were assigned, and twenty-four hours before the contest, the topics to be used were drawn.

Fred Graff who won first place represented the Normal University in the State Oratorical Contest of Teachers Colleges which was held at Macomb, March 28.

WOMEN DEBATERS

Debating

While I.S.N.U.'s debate season this year cannot be considered a success from the point of view of judges decisions, yet probably in reality this has been the greatest debate year I.S.N.U. has seen.

Most of the debates this year have dealt with the question: "Resolved, that the United States Congress should enact a law embodying the essential provisions of the Huber (Wisconsin) Unemployment Insurance Bill, constitutionality conceded." The first debate to take place was a triangle, March 1, with Bradley Polytechnic Institute and Lombard College. The affirmative team, consisting of Clarence Coursey, Kenneth Pringle, and Robert English dropped a two-to-one decision to Bradley at Peoria, while Cornelius Henze, Raymond Fildes, and Charles Hornback wrung a unanimous decision from Lombard in the I.S.N.U. auditorium.

In a Freshman-Sophomore encounter with Eureka, Dorothy Hibarger, Maude Selby, and Frank Weller lost a decision at Eureka while the affirmative team, Helen Edwards, Elizabeth Schenfeldt, and Kenneth Pringle, was also losing a split decision on the home platform.

Six girls have been working on the question: "Resolved, that the United States should enter the World Court." On March 31, Florence

MEN DEBATORS

Blackburn, Veda Bolt, and Roberta Poos, upholding the affirmative, lost to the touring girls' team from Colorado Agricultural College. The Normal girls did very creditable work. So far as is known, they have the honor of being the first all-girls debate team in the history of I.S.N.U.

Other debates are scheduled to follow the present writing. A team composed entirely of girls from Minier, Illinois, is to debate the negative of the World Court with the Wesleyan girls probably before the Unitarian Open Forum. Minier has contributed more forensic talent to I.S.N.U. recently than any other town in the state. A men's team including Glenn Parkin and Warren Yerkes will debate a Wesleyan team on the Huber Bill, probably before a Bloomington labor union.

Until the time of the World War it was a custom of long standing for I.S.N.U. to settle interstate debate supremacy among normal schools by a debate with Oshkosh, Wisconsin, Normal. Terre Haute, Indiana Normal, was sometimes included. This ancient custom is to be revived this year in a triangular debate between I.S.N.U., Oshkosh, and Western Michigan Normal of Kalamazoo on unemployment insurance. Normal's negative team goes to Kalamazoo while her affirmative meets Oshkosh at home. The triangular debate is scheduled for April 26.

The Homecoming

From north and south, from east and west, they came to the Third Annual Homecoming at I.S.N.U. Although the enterprise is young in years, so wide is the fame of these reunions that each year our Alma Mater witnesses a greater number of her sons and daughters returning to knit more firmly the ties which bind them to her.

There was only one detail which the committee in charge did not succeed in perfecting, or perhaps because October had smiled upon us so graciously, it seemed only reasonable to suppose that the twenty-sixth and the twenty-seventh would be as bright as the days which had preceded them. But cloudy skies and chilly winds cannot daunt the Homecomer's spirits. Rather, the jolly good humor and the warmth of friendship rekindled, seemed the brighter by contrast.

The football game on Friday afternoon between University high and Normal Community high started the schedule of events, and brought victory to University high with a score of 27-0.

In the evening at 8:15 o'clock when the crowded auditorium awaited the presentation of the Jesters' play, Mr. Pim Passes By, President Felmley extended the formal greeting to the homecomers. The play, a comedy by A. A. Milne presenting various phases of English life, delighted the audience and left them to wonder what the Jesters could achieve further in the way of pleasing stage effects and characters aptly chosen. Immediately after the play, the Auld Lang Syne party given by the Senior Class in rooms 12 and 17 and the corridors of the Main building, brought many friends together.

The hours of Saturday were occupied from early morning until late at night. The waffle breakfast served at 7:30 was just such a one as a hungry homecomer with an appreciative appetite would wish to have set before him. The members of the Hieronymus Club lingered so long over their waffles and coffee, that 9:30 found them still in room 12 when it was time for the parade lines to form.

Next came the Hobo Parade fostered by the Hopkins' Agriculture Club. So much originality and genius was shown by those who took part that it is to be hoped this innovation may become a permanent feature of our homecoming program. The range of life represented, included characters from classic Rome down to our modern Walt and Skeeze.

Campus sports occupied the time from 10:30 to 11:30. The boys' athletic teams played cage ball and the girls of the physical training department played volley ball.

Miss Milner and the Library Staff welcomed the homecomers on Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, to an informal reception in the library building.

The I.S.N.U. clubs which had been organized throughout the state during the past year held meetings during the day.

The various school organizations used the luncheon and dinner hours for homecoming reunions. The Lowell Mason club, the Kindergarten club, and Kappa Delta Pi held their luncheons in the Main building. In the evening from 5:30 to 7:30 o'clock the Varsity Club and the W.A.A. held their banquets, the former in the Manual Arts building, and the latter in the Methodist church.

The football game in the afternoon drew the majority of the homecomers to the athletic field where they saw the Normal team defeat Blackburn 13-7.

After the meetings of the two literary societies, a huge bonfire south of the athletic field drew its quota of the crowd.

The happy ending of the day came with the All-School party and dances held at the gymnasium and Fell Hall.

The sunrise prayer service on Sunday morning in the Presbyterian church under the auspices of the Y.W.C.A. gave the last perfect touch to the 1923 Homecoming.

So we record the material things which the eye witnesses in the day's events. But while we thus set down the record, we are mindful of the spiritual significance behind it all which we cannot measure or record.

Founders' Day

When one has attained his sixty-seventh birthday and finds himself young and vigorous, his thoughts not only traverse the path over which he has come, but they also take stock of the future, and study how best to accomplish what still lies ahead to do.

The 1924 celebration of Founders' Day which occurred on February 16, had those two aspects. The program on Saturday afternoon was occupied with the problem of how to extend the influence of the normal schools throughout the state.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. M. Roy Staker who introduced the speakers of the afternoon.

Miss Jessie M. Dillon, President of the Alumni Association, extended greetings to those present.

Mr. Bone discussed at some length, The Influence of Leadership.

The principal address of the afternoon was given by Dr. R. E. Hieronymus of the University of Illinois who took for his theme, "The Influence of the I.S.N.U. Students and Alumni on the Educational Interests of Illinois."

At the close of the address, Mr. Staker called upon the officers of the I.S.N.U. Clubs recently organized in many of the counties. These officers spoke of the work of organization, and of their plans for the future.

The afternoon ended with the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

The second part of the program had for its center of interest the unveiling of the portrait of Dr. John W. Cook, former student, teacher, and president of I.S.N.U.

Miss Milner's paper, Normal Students of Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow, sounded a sane and cheerful note, and was presented in the author's usual convincing manner.

Other speakers of the evening were Mrs. Nettie B. Dement, County Superintendent of Schools of McLean County, and Miss Louise E. Siebert, Principal of the Franklin School, Bloomington, both of the relationship of I.S.N.U. to the teachers under their supervision.

President David Felmley, speaking upon Founders of the Normal School, voiced his appreciation of the work done by such men as Charles E. Hovey, Jesse Fell, Dr. Hewitt, Thomas Metcalf, and others who helped make the early history of I.S.N.U.

Mrs. Agnes Cook of Gale, daughter of former president John W. Cook, assisted by Francis G. Blair, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, stepped forward and unveiled the portrait of her father.

Then followed Mr. Blair's beautiful tribute to John W. Cook. To those who heard him speak, it seemed as if Mr. Blair was peculiarly qualified to pay that tribute. Surely to no other belongs so happy a gift of expression.

Mr. Swen Parson and Miss Vera Wiswall of DeKalb, both of whom had been closely associated with Dr. Cook, were present and added their impressions of the man to those already given. So the mental portrait of Dr. Cook was rounded out and made life-like as the portrait on the canvas.

Mr. Pim Passes By

A modern comedy, Mr. Pim Passes By, written by A. A. Milne, was presented by the Jesters in the Auditorium, October 26, 1923. The Jester play was one of the big events of Home Coming. In fact, it proved to be so popular this year, that we have planned to have two performances of the Jester play, next year, to accommodate the regular students and visitors.

"The Gibson Upright"

The freshman and junior classes kept step with the progress of the industrial world in choosing as their play of the year The Gibson Upright. This production by Booth Tarkington centers around a strike among the workers of the piano factory owned by Gibson. It presents an economic situation typical of the day.

This very forceful play was supported by a strong group of characters. As is to be expected in a play of this nature, men characters predominated. The following cast appeared in the production as it was given on the evening of April fourth:

Gibson	OSBORNE RUNION
Nora	HAZEL TABOR
Muffin	FLOYD GREEN
Frankel	JAMES SHROEDER
Carter	KENNETH DEY
Simpson	FRANK WELLER
Riley	ELMER WILSON
Salvator	BILL CLEVELAND
Shromberg	JAMES HOSTETTLER
Ella	DOROTHY GILLESPIE
Mrs. Simpson	FLORENCE BLACKBURN
Polenski	MARK M. MOONEY

Senior Play

The Detour by Owen Davis is a supreme picture of farm life, of mother love and wifely rebellion, where the tragedy is two-fold—in the woman's yearning and striving for self-expression through her daughter; and in the daughter's inadequacy through the inheritance of her father's stodginess and the company claim of the soil upon her. The author has taken another step beyond realism when the mother shows a glint of a palpitant spirit akin to mysticism, yet attached to earthy attainment and an unquenchable determination to outwit environment, and to rise higher than circumstance.

Varsity Club Week

By vote of the faculty, the men of the Varsity Club are granted the privilege of having the second week-end in May set aside for their observance. In accordance, the Varsity Club Stunt Show is to occur annually on the Friday evening of that week-end.

The 1923 Stunt Show was one of the most artistic from every point of view which has ever been given on our campus. The cup was won by the Women's Athletic Association and, as had been announced, the winner of the cup for this year received for a permanent trophy.

As the final part of the annual program for the second week in May, the Varsity Club is given the privilege of sponsoring the Mothers' Day service for the University community. Last year this service proved to be most impressive. The music of the program consisted of special organ music by Mrs. Harold Dale Saurer, vocal selections by the Girls' Chorus, and the solo, Little Mother O' Mine, sung by Mr. Godfrey Olsen. The sermon was given by the Reverend Mr. Gerald Birney Smith of the Divinity School, University of Chicago.

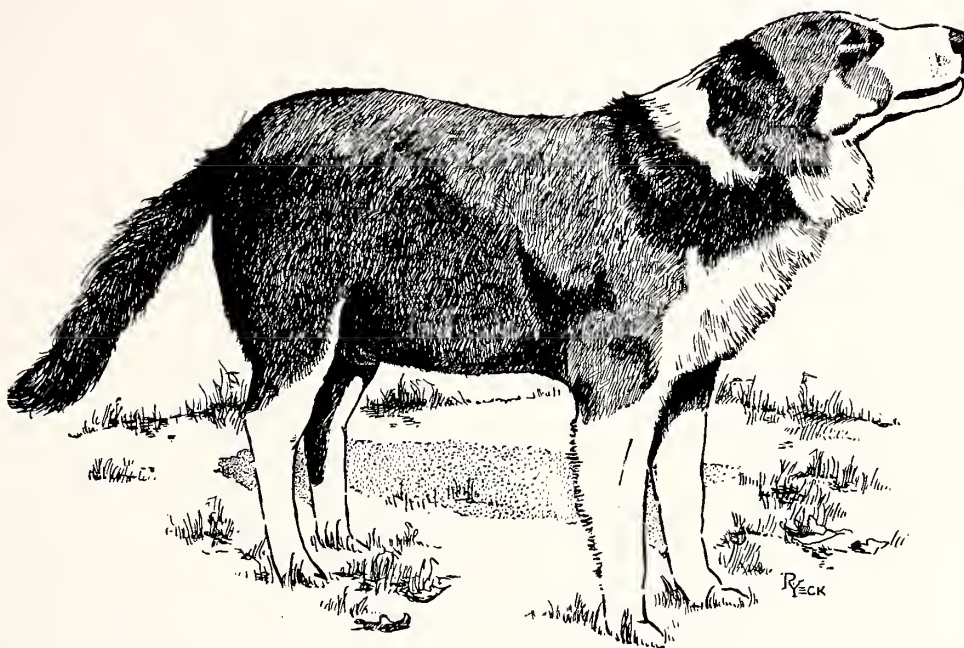

May the Varsity Club Week come to be an ever more interesting and impressive part of our campus calendar.

Hoffman: "The lining of the windpipe is covered with stationary cilia. They move around and drive out the dust."

Schroeder: "Did you say they were stationary and moved around?"

Hoffman: "Well, one end is stationary, anyway."

Wahoo

He was a dog. No long pedigree did he possess but he had his place in the hearts of thousands. A friend to all—all were his friends. For three years the dear old fellow guarded the Fell Hall Gate or basked comfortably in the sun on the south steps of Old Main. We came to regard him as a part of these permanent things, a part almost as permanent as they. We loved him, with that love possible between humans and dogs, and he loved us. We smiled indulgently when he attempted to drive motor cars from the campus; we said that that was his official duty.

Then came the time when he must be taken from us. An automobile ran over him and the old boy breathed his last a few minutes later.

Wahoo has gone to that Happy Hunting Ground where dog and man may rove forever in comradeship, where there are no automobiles to look out for and where dogs are dogs without reference to breed or class. Good-by old dog, you have earned your rest and may you be happy forever in your New Home.

Schroeder: "I thought when I was young that when I got to be an old man my near-sightedness would be neutralized by the natural farsightedness of old age. I know better now."

(Later): "I'll be 43 some day and then I'll have my glasses adjusted."

Calendar

NOUGH SED FOR THE REST OF THE TERM.
SEE YOU AGAIN ON THE NEXT PAGE

September

10. Miss Johnson and the Book Exchange together put the Indian sign on a whole flock of tens.
11. Lost in a great city. Where's room 37?
12. Permanent seating. "I know where I am but where the deuce am I?"
13. Almost unlucky for the organist when Felmley shook the gavel.
14. "Mr. Holmes will find out what's wrong with the modern girl." Personally we can't see anything wrong.
15. Football men get their duds. "Warpy" Barr: "Hey I asked for a pair of pants not a kimona."
17. Over 800 get their first choices in rhetoricals. Gee Whiz? How can it was?
18. The 800 go more or less peacefully to rhetoricals. Active Wrights and Phils gamble in the library.
19. Varsity Club holds open house. ("Doc" Linkins disappears among the drinks and doesn't show up for a while.)
20. Mr. Beyer talks. We all firmly resolve to instill in the younger generation a complete knowledge of the constitution. Pity the younger generation.
21. John and Mary seen together only 43 times(!)
24. Mr. Packard, former faculty member tells us about Cavins eating proclivities. We didn't think it of Elmer.
25. Rhetoricals again. Freshmen grow ten stutters where none grew before.
26. Domestic Science class manufactures Ketchup. ("K" as in onion.)
27. Some class to the meetings today. All four classes in fact. Tex Hall in Soph. class: "I move that the candidates rise before leaving the room."
28. New parking rules out. Important omission: Nothing said about chewing gum. We are asked to record our expressions with Mr. Scott.

October

1. Westhoff hurt by automobile.
2. Student Council decides to revise handbooks sometime after revision had been started.
3. Phils tell the world (thru the Vidette) that they are up and going. Wrights admit the latter.
4. Commercial Club massacres numerous dogs, impale them on sticks and surround them with buns. Kappa Delta Pi does the ditto.
5. Big pep meeting. "Sympathy Septette struts its stuff."
6. We beat Lincoln 6 to 6.
8. Seniors begin to worry about theses.
9. The Dean holds his monthly reception.
11. Wrights say nothing, but show us some of their musical talent.
12. We see the team off. Septette leads.
13. Unlucky. We repeat last year's performance. DeKalb 0—Normal 0.
15. Stickers begin to blossom out on brief cases and windshields.
16. Rhetoricals again. We pass hurriedly on.
17. The President evidently couldn't find his comb.
18. The Phils repeat the Wrights' performance of a week ago.
20. Illinois 7—Normal 0. Broke our tying streak anyway.
23. Jester Play tickets romping merrily away.
24. "There's a murmur in the air. We can hear it everywhere"—It grows larger.
25. Who says the literary societies are dead? 'J see the banners? "Mr. Pim passes by" in great shape.
27. Waffles, hoboos, bands 'n everything. Some homecoming, eh what? I.S.N.U. 13—Blackburn 7.
29. Oh! Dear! I haven't touched a book since Friday.
30. Slumber Method Tuesday again.
31. Tests begin to fugit.

November

1. And fugit.
2. And fugit. Stephen Leacock runs wild and chases the blues.
3. Normal 13—Charleston 0.
5. Whassamatter with the team. We'll, bite, what is?
5. Westhoff is back!! Are we happy? We show it!
6. Doc & Florence together for the 891st time this term!
7. Dorr Simer: "My socks are made of gun-cotton, they go off every night."
8. Dorr shows no effects of explosion.
8. Schroeder gives another performance of his alarm clock story.
9. The band comes before the sardines.
12. Five years ago we ditched the Kaiser.
13. The day after today is tomorrow.
14. Yesterday was the day before today.
15. Four active society members and a Philadelphian gave a good program.
16. Adams' idea of self-expression is a written exam.
19. Today was Monday.

The Football Season

When Coach Horton called for recruits for the football team, sixty-five men reported. From this group of material he was able to pick a team which gave more than one fan a surprise. Even Wesleyan wondered what he had out at Normal, when we scored on them Thanksgiving day for the first time in three years. Many of the men were playing their first year of football, only five letter men reporting, which was a great handicap to a new coach.

The past season, on the whole, was a success, not probably from the number of games won, for after all that is not what matters so much. The training of the participants and rooters for good sportsmanship and fair play is what puts a school before the people. And certainly Old Normal's football team of '23 carried that spirit with them.

DAVIDSON

"Chet," halfback, was the ground gainer of the backfield. He picked the holes in the line and skirted the ends for nice gains. "Chet" could always be depended upon to make first down.

HOFFMAN, Captain

"Wib," tackle, was a good consistent line-man, well liked by teammates and opponents. Double "N" man.

HALL

"Tex", end, was a hard hitter and always played the game to win. On several occasions it was "Tex's" speed that saved the day for I.S.N.U."

"N" man.

HORTON, C. E.

"Coach" came to us from Clark University, Massachusetts. With him came a revolution in athletics at I.S.N.U. Mr. Horton is a peppy, all around coach and an excellent physical training director. His slogan is "athletics for all." He will put I.S.N.U. on the top in conference athletics.

CLARK

"Potsy", tackle, can be called the boy with the million dollar toe. Can he kick? Ask Millikin.

McDOWELL

Scotty, quarter and halfback, was a triple threat man, he could punt, pass and run. A sure tackler and real interference. Double "N" man.

PATTON

"Pat", quarter and halfback, was the smallest man on the squad, but his lack of size was more than balanced by his fighting spirit. "N" man.

SHEPPLEMAN

"Shep", center, was a real fighter. He was always in the game and was just as reliable on the offense as on the defense. Double "N" man.

INDEX

FIRLEY, H.

"Von", tackle was no rookie at football altho this was his first year at I.S.N.U. He played a fine game and could open large holes in the opposing line.

"N" man—Captain elect for 1924.

BIRKHEAD

"Dude", guard, was a new man this year but got to going early in the season. He was a big man and could use his weight.

"N" man.

CLEVELAND

"Little Bill", halfback, played real football for no larger than he was. He was a sure tackler and could also be counted on to give his best.

"N" man.

FIRLEY, C.

"Red", fullback and tackle, was a real kicker and passer. He was big and uses his weight to advantage. Injuries kept him out of several games. He should be a valuable man next year.

"N" man.

INDEX

HENZE

"Corne", guard, was a last year's player of real merit. He was one guard that knew how to get through the offensive line and make a tackle.

Triple "N" man.

SCHROEDER

"Ott" was a second string backfield man, always ready to do his bit in furnishing opposition for the first squad.

HIRST

"Towanda", tackle, knew how to play football and there was seldom a time that he didn't take care of his man.

Double "N" man.

ASHBROOK

"Hap", end, is a promising freshman and should be a valuable man on the team next year.

INDEX

HOOVER

"Fat", guard, was a new man at football but should do some good work next year.

SAAR

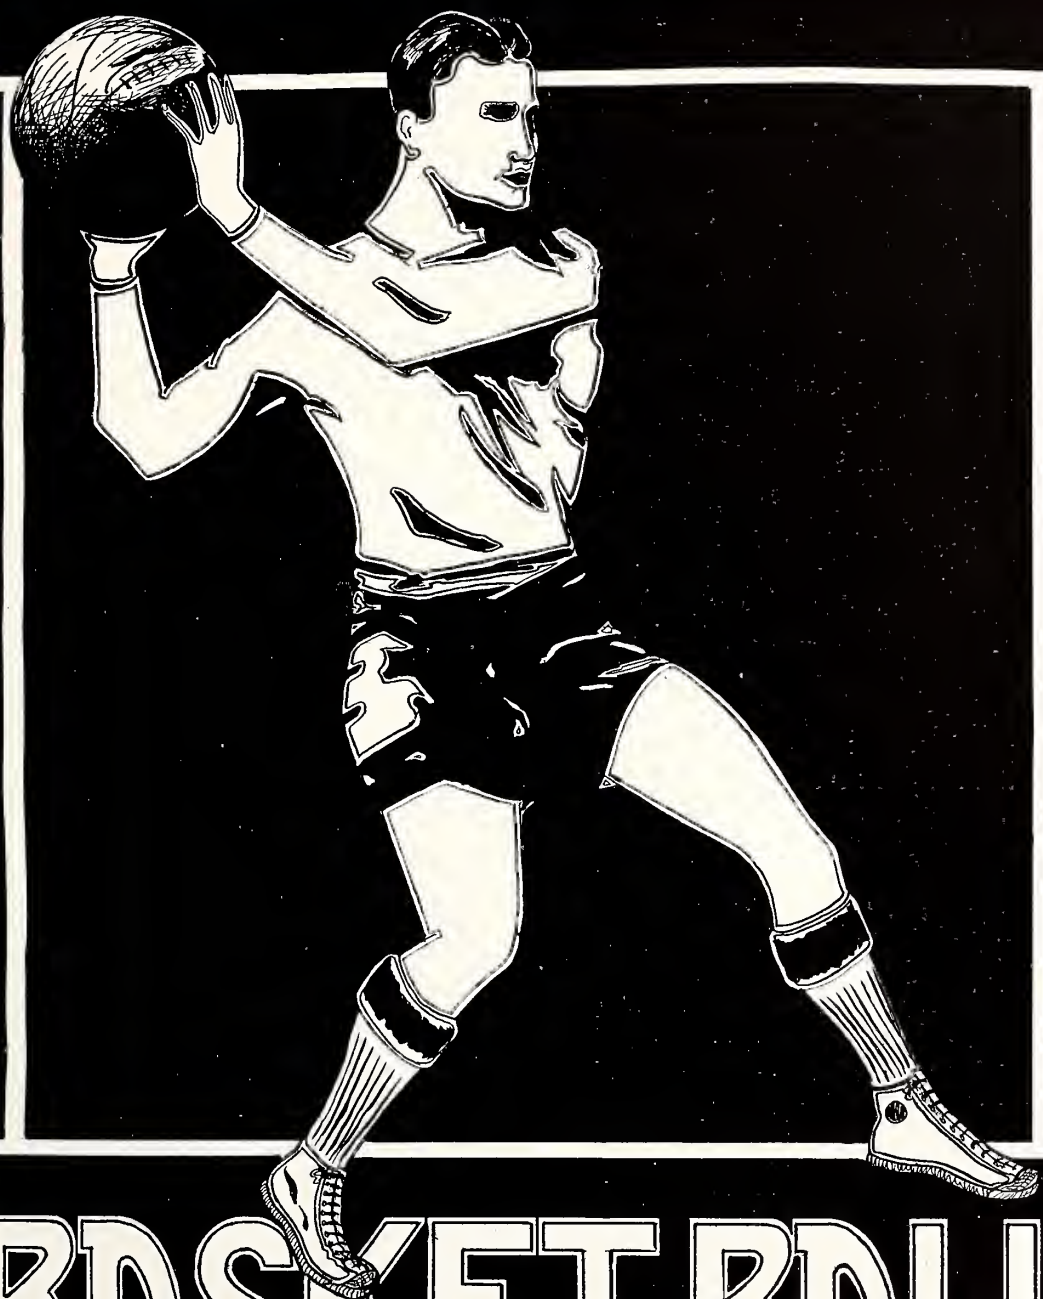

"Howdy", end, was victim of tough luck this year. He sustained injuries that kept him out of several games. He knew no master while in the game.

BENJAMIN

"Benjie" was a real scrapper and lack of size alone kept him from the Varsity.

CUNNINGHAM

"Shorty", end, was a good end and put up a real fight in the Wesleyan game.

Basketball

Coach Horton was faced with a large squad of inexperienced players when the 1923-24 basketball season opened. Of necessity the squad was cut to sixteen at the end of the first week.

Although we did not win a majority of our games the season could be considered a success. Nearly every strong team in the conference was on the Normal schedule, and every team knew that it took real basket ball to send I.S.N.U. to defeat. Every man on the squad gave all that he had whenever the opportunity presented itself, and if the final score was not in Normal's favor, the squad took the defeat in a fine sportsmanlike manner. After all it isn't always the most wins that makes the more successful team.

The following men were given letters at the Varsity Club's annual basket ball banquet:

Capt. Schneider, Changnon, McDowell, Riggs, Clark, Beck, Gallaspie and Roberts. McDowell was given a sweater for his second year's competition in basket ball.

Harold Gallaspie was chosen captain to lead the 1924-25 team.

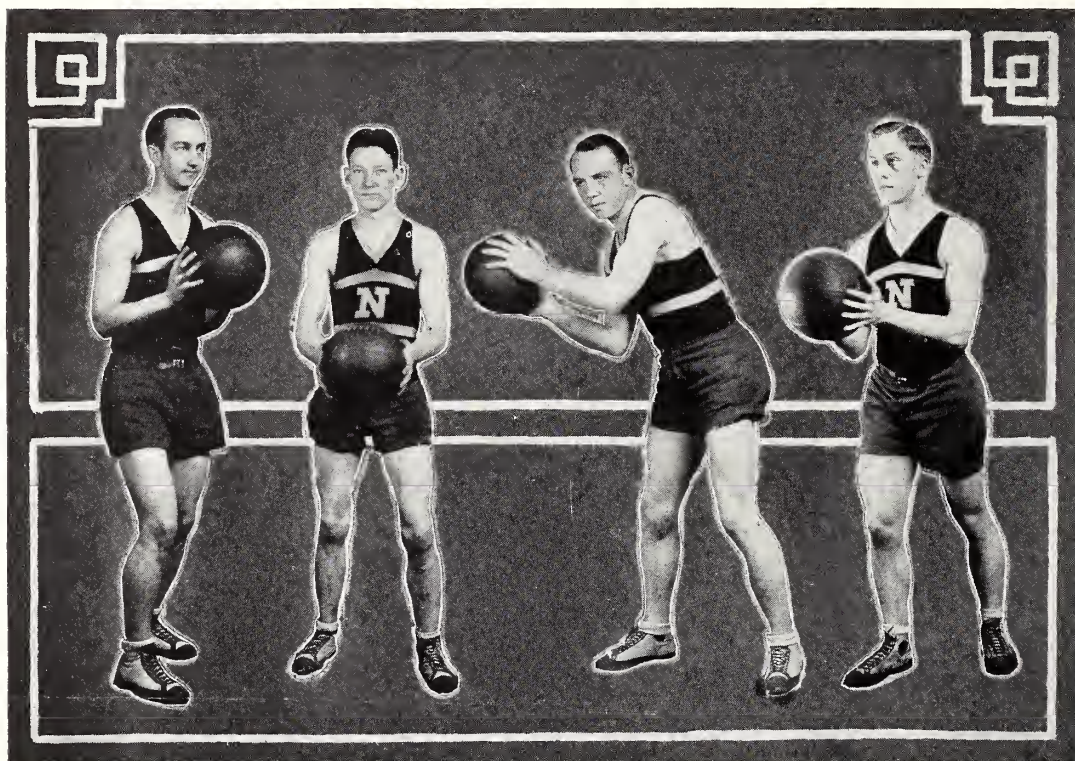

BEYER

There was a young man from O-hi-o
He was loyal to his school! Oh my oh
He's now known to you
At I. S. N. U.
Where he roots for the old team on the sly-o.

There was a young man named Kemp
There was nothing he wouldn't attempt
As a cheer leader now
He raises a row
And from yelling none are exempt.

"O. L. M." he writes it down
We're all familiar with the sight
But when with hopes our grades have flown
Don't crowd! The line forms to the right.

RIGGS

"Andy", forward, came to us from a basketball town. He knew the game well and always played to win.

"N" man.

MCDOWELL

Scotty, forward, had the best eye of the squad. He could always be counted on in the tight places.

Double "N" man.

BECK

"Tiny", center, was the giant of the squad, he was going good when the season closed. He will be valued next year.

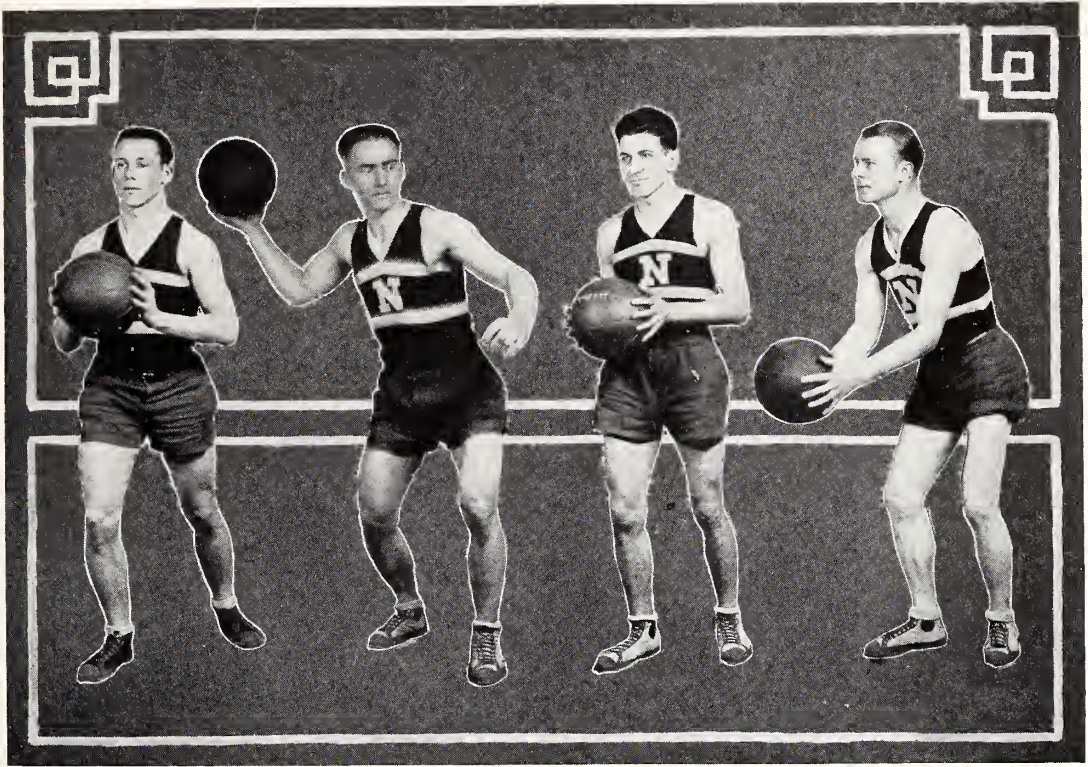

"N" man.

SCHNEIDER—Capt.

"Snoop", guard, was the long range artist of the team. This was his third year of basketball at I.S.N.U.

Triple "N" man.

INDEX

GALLASPIE

"Gallop", guard, was a hard player and one that could be coached. He was elected Captain for next year and should make an able leader.

ROBERTS

"Robie", forward was a scrapper from the first to last whistle, fast on his feet and a good shot. Watch him next year.
"N" man.

CHANGNON

"Chang", guard and center, as the most consistent player on the team. He took basket ball seriously and played a hard clean game at all times. Triple "N" man.

CLARK

"Potsy", forward, was rather slow in getting started but when he did, he sure was hot! He will be of great value next year.
"N" man.

Curriculum Basketball

There was real interest shown in curriculum basket ball this winter. Curriculums K, I, J, and E all had good teams that were nearly evenly matched. Nearly every game played was won by a slight margin. The final standing was as follows:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
K	5	1	.833
J	3	3	.500
E	2	4	.333
I	2	4	.333

All-Star Curriculum Teams:

Baseball 1924

The outlook for baseball at I.S.N.U. this year was exceptionally bright. Although there were only two letter men back, Coach Horton had an abundance of new material which looked very promising.

As has been the case in all branches of sport at I.S.N.U. this year, there were too many men out to be handled by one coach, so of necessity the squad had to be cut to twenty-six men.

There were four good pitchers on the squad. Larson, Young, Barr, and Wacaser sharing the mound duty. Young and Wacaser were veterans at the hurling positions while Larson and Barr showed promise. "Tex" Hall and "Vic" Lindquist did their stuff at receiving.

The infield was especially good this year and with diligent practice developed into one of the best in the conference. The men were all fast and full of pep.

By the process of elimination, and because of their ability to play their respective positions well, the following men received permanent positions: Young, first; Saar, second; Largent, short; Barr and Schroeder, third. The regular outfielders were Graff, Roberts, Wacaser and Mooney.

At a meeting of the letter men just before the first game, "Tex" Hall was chosen captain for this year. The choice showed good judgment as "Tex" certainly knew the game.

The season's schedule follows:

I. S. N. U.	4	E. I. T. C.	5	April 25	T
I. S. N. U.	23	Illinois College	5	May 1	H
I. S. N. U.	4	Bradley	12	May 6	H

Tennis Association

OFFICERS

President	R. G. BUZZARD
Vice-President	G. SHARP
Secretary-Treasurer	JOE LUCAS
Chairman Grounds Committee	L. ATTEBERRY

I. S. N. U. is especially well prepared to offer accommodations to those who like tennis, and tennis is one of our most popular sports. Many students elect tennis to meet their Physical Education requirements and a large number take it from pure love of the game. The increasing interest is making it necessary to enlarge the number of courts and the Tennis Association has plans under consideration for doubling the number.

Each spring local tournaments are held and entries are selected to participate in the state tournaments.

This popularity is well deserved. Tennis may be played with small numbers and until quite late in life. It does not require large grounds or excessively expensive equipment. Students are encouraged to build up a sentiment for tennis among their pupils in the schools. This accounts for its long continued popularity at I. S. N. U.

- Dec. XXX!!! Oh! heavens! help! help! you ask why the screams? (initiation).
Our Annual Sports Banquet at Lafayette Inn.
Our hearts go pit-a-pat as the Varsity Hockey team is announced.
This banquet assumes a new dignity to be passed on, that of conferring honors at this time. Modestly, Dorothy, Charlotte, Gertrude, Thelma, and Teresa, amid loud applause, received their coveted Big "N's"; and the rest of us are not a little bit jealous as "Billy", "Mary Lou", Cleo, and Margaret receive their pins; and "Polly" excels them all.
Her name goes on a cup.
- Jan. The Freshmen and Sophomore basketball teams vie with one another in an effort to show off their new green and red jackets.

DO YOU KNOW THAT

- W.A.A.—Won first place in the Varsity Club Stunt Show last year?
Dr. Ames says—We're the healthiest girls on the campus?
Dean Imboden says—just consider the number of W.A.A. girls holding responsible positions in the school?
"Doc" Linkins—Has announced himself as a life long member of W.A.A.?
The Faculty Team composed of Dr. Ames, Misses Anderson, Warsinske, Finkelstein, Dexhiemer represent honorary members of W.A.A.?
We leave it to you all if W.A.A. hasn't made itself felt on the campus this year.

After the U. High-Gridley football game at Gridley last fall, the Boys Glee Club went to James Hamm's home where the two glee clubs held a joint roast and party.

On February 22, the operetta "Miss Cherryblossom" was presented to a large audience. It was enjoyed very much by everyone.

During the spring term a party was held for both glee clubs at the home of one of the members.

Miss More entered a special chorus in the County Contest held in April. The glee clubs also sang at the Fairview Sanatorium in the spring.

The glee clubs went to James Hamm's home one evening last October. There they enjoyed a roast, games, and dancing.

The operetta, "Miss Cherryblossom," which was given by both glee clubs, was one of the prettiest and most enjoyable operettas given in the auditorium.

In the spring, the members of the two glee clubs rode out to the Fairview Sanatorium, where they sang and entertained the patients.

Girls Athletic Association

The Girls Athletic Association has just finished another successful year. Many new members have been added to the numbers of the organization, mostly freshmen. The members have co-operated remarkably well with the officers in making 1923-24 a banner year for our "old G. A. A."

In the fall, hockey, volley-ball, and tennis lured many girls out of doors. Many scrappy battles were waged with the Varsity hockey team, and the friendly rivalry greatly stimulated the spirit of the fun. Bowling and basketball claimed the attention of the girls during the wintry months, the credit for the success of the players going to Miss Warsinski, the coach. Spring and out of doors called, and many turned out for baseball, track, and tennis. All during the year there were some who faithfully kept training rules, and others who lost not sight of the gentler graces and so took dancing.

During the winter term the local constitution of the association was revised to better suit our needs.

A minstrel show put on in the "Follies" showed the ability of some of the members. The famous G. A. A. "spreads" came at frequent intervals during the year. Some of the members evidently enjoyed these spreads better than anything else. (Ask Helen Moore!) (?)

The success of the year's work is due to the sponsor, Miss Waterman, assisted by the officers: Mable Sage, president; Jo. McCormick, vice-president; Helen Moore, secretary; and Myra Adler, treasurer.

Howard Kewley was our very capable leader for the winter term. Although there was no social affair this term, the members had the best discussions of the year.

Aura King was at the head of the club for the spring term. The several joint meetings with the Bloomington Hi-Y Club were greatly enjoyed. There was also a delightful breakfast and overnight hike to Fernwood Lodge.

The presidents during the year were as follows: fall term, Helen Moore; winter term, Roy Whittington; spring term, Edwin Bergstrom.

The programs have been varied, consisting of debating, readings, vocal and instrumental music, and reviews of current magazine articles. A male quartet has been organized.

There have been two social events. In the fall term, a steak fry was held at Fernwood Lodge, near Lexington. In the winter term, a banquet was held at the Y. W. C. A., and after this the society enjoyed a theatre party.

Rostrum

Rostrum has enjoyed a very successful year.

Much of the success was due to the efficient work of our presidents, who were as follows: fall term, Ralston Mason; winter term, William Bennett; and spring term, Howard Kewley.

In the fall term the members and several of the alumni enjoyed a weiner roast at Mackinaw Dells.

In the winter term the annual Rostrum dance proved to be a great success.

A banquet and picnic were given in the spring term.

The presidents of the Unadilla Society this year were: fall term, Margaret Coolidge; winter term, Stephen Ambrose; spring term, Richard Rodman.

Under the leadership of Miss Hamilton, the society has gone through another interesting and helpful year. One of the features of particular interest was the presenting of "The Old Home Town" in the Senior Follies. Besides the regular literary work, three social activities were planned: a roast at the home of Stephen Ambrose, in the fall; a banquet at the Woman's Exchange, in the winter; and another social event in the spring.

Athletic Board of Control

The members of the Athletic Board of Control were elected by the classes in accordance with the constitution. The Board consists of two seniors, one junior, one sophomore, and one freshman, with Mr. Pringle and Mr. Benjamin as faculty members. This year the members were Harold Conger, William Bennett, Josephine McCormick, Harry Donnelly and Alva Tomlinson.

The Board met the second Thursday of every month to discuss and settle matters pertaining to the athletic life of the school.

The officers for this year were: Chairman, Mr. Benjamin; Secretary, Jo McCormick; and Treasurer, William Bennett.

PAUL KINGSLEY BENJAMIN

Although Coach's teams were not the best in the state, they showed wonderful improvement as each season progressed. This shows what good coaching can do for any team. It takes real grit to smile when a team is being beaten repeatedly, but at every game, before and after, "P. K." was there with a smile. So here's hoping for better teams next year.

INDEX

Standing—E. Quinn, D. Quinn, Jensen, Cribb, Schroeder, Wolff, Spafford, Bergstrom, Shiner, Mason, Hallam, Baltz, King.
Sitting—Stoops, Davis, Basting, H. Mohar, Donnelley, Capt. Conger, Whittington, Miller, Cade, Kewley, Bennett, Coach Benjamin.

Football

This year's football team, although greatly handicapped by lack of experience, turned in a very good record, as shown by their 83 points to their opponents 63 while playing some of the best teams in this section of the state.

Captain Conger, Mohar, Basting, and Donnelley were the only old letter men on the team, while Whittington, Miller, Davis, and Bennett were from the scrubs of 1922, and Ambrose and Kewley came from the scrubs of 1921. Besides these were Kelley, Stoops, McClure, and Quinn—all new men who played their first game this year.

Only Whittington, Miller, and Captain-elect Donnelley are left of the letter men for next year.

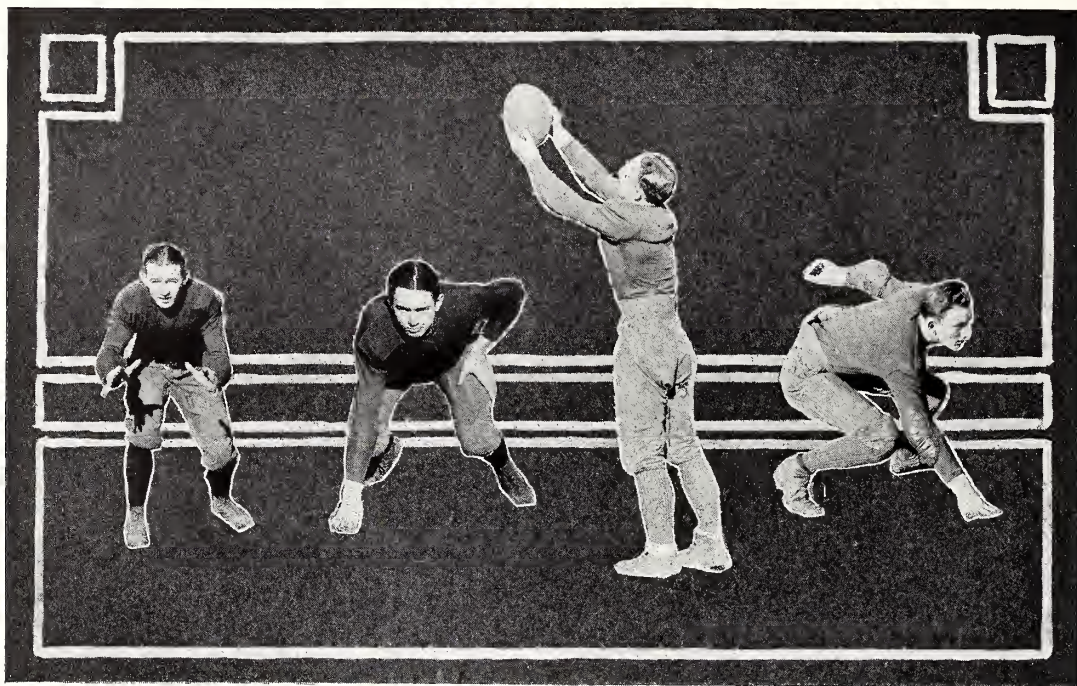

With these for a nucleus, Coach Benjamin should be able, if aided by the entry of some new men into the school, to put a fairly good team into the field next fall.

SCORES OF THE GAMES

Sept. 28—McLean	0	U. High.	40
Oct. 6—Spaulding	13	U. High.	0
Oct. 12—Gridley	6	U. High.	3
Oct. 20—Peoria Manual	28	U. High.	0
Oct. 26—Normal	0	U. High.	26
Nov. 2—Lincoln	0	U. High.	7
Nov. 10—Bloomington	3	U. High.	0
Nov. 17—Decatur	13	U. High.	7
Total points—Opponents		U. High.	83

Of this list the games at Gridley, Lincoln, Normal, and at Decatur, where U. High played without the aid of several regular men, were undoubtedly the best.

INDEX

M. KELLEY

Kelley playing his first football performed at left tackle. He learned a lot of football in a short time and developed into a very good lineman.

AMBROSE

Ambrose, although light for a fullback, could hit the line hard or skirt the ends for good gains. Steve was a good punter and receiver of forward passes. On defense his speed saved several touch-downs.

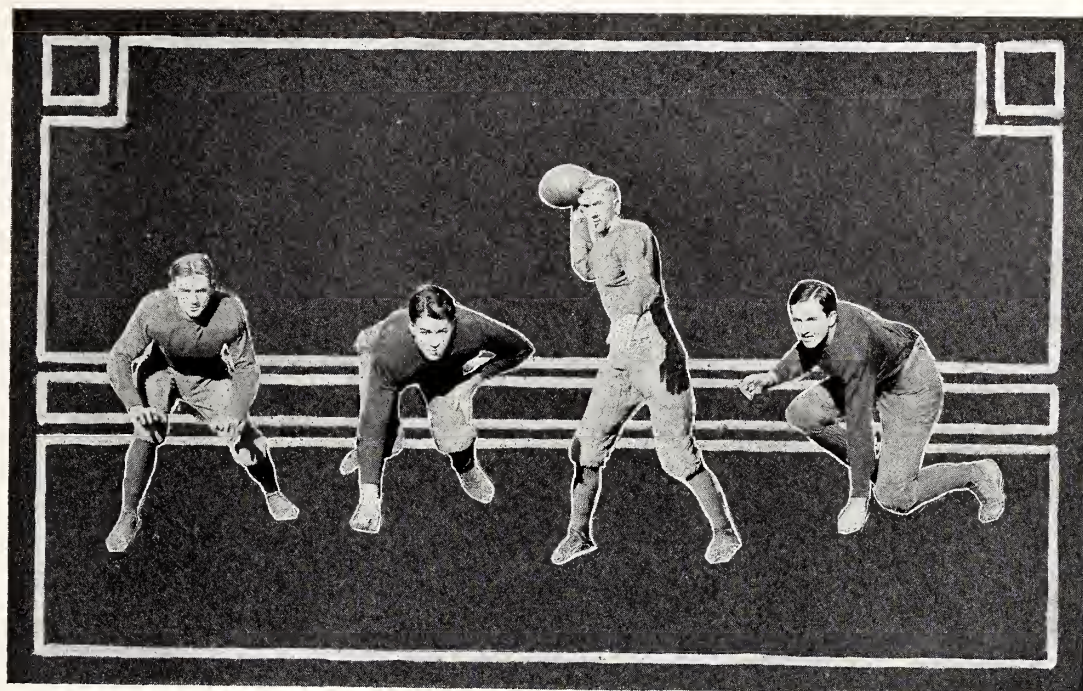

CONGER

Conger, playing his fourth year of football, was probably the strongest player on the squad. He knows as much about playing end as many college players. Captain Harold was for the second time captain and proved an able leader.

DONNELLEY

Donnelley's value to the team was shown when he was elected captain of the 1924 squad. The fighting Irish halfback was the most consistent back on the squad. He was equally good on interference and carrying the ball.

INDEX

BASTING

Basting's playing showed a great improvement over that of the year before. He developed into an accurate passer, and on defense he seldom met his equal.

BENNETT

It is seldom that an inexperienced player makes the team as a back, but Bennett did that very thing. His speed and fight gained many yards for U. High. He was a good open field runner and a sure tackle.

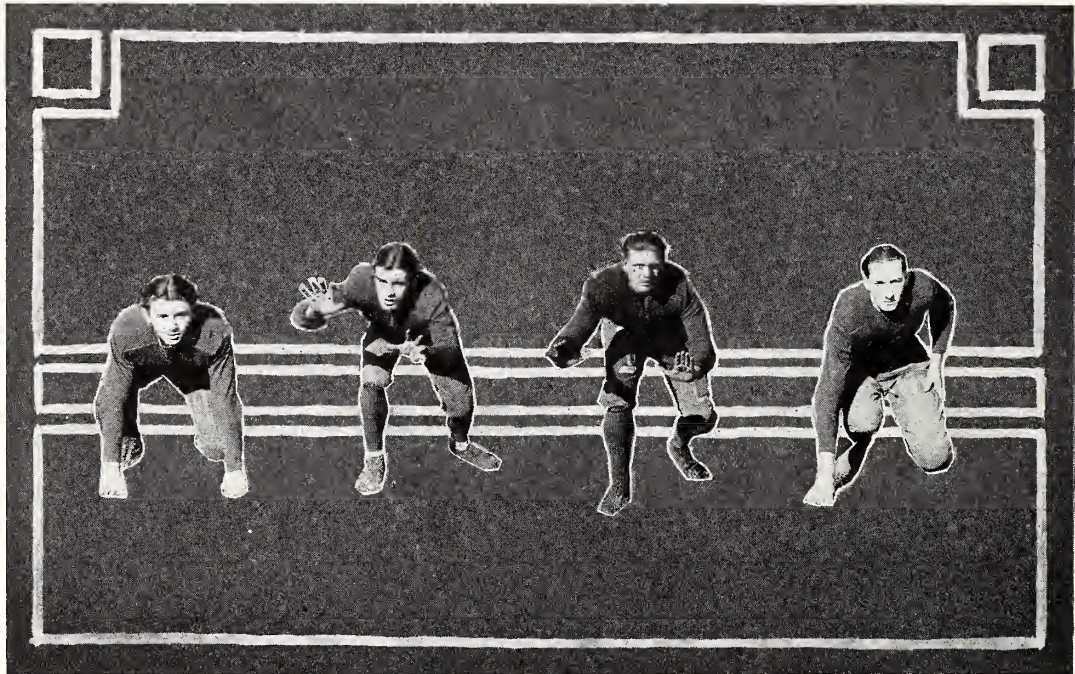

H. MOHAR

Hump was our best bet as quarterback. He could run, pass, punt, and drop kick—in fact, he could do everything a football player could do and did them all well. He was one of the surest tacklers on the team. His generalship was excellent, considering the fact that he had but two years' experience. It will be hard to fill Hump's shoes next year.

DAVIS

After three years of diligent effort Davis won his letter in his senior year. He played guard and center and proved a valuable man. There was never any question of Davis's eligibility. He was always there.

INDEX

MILLER

Miller gained valuable experience as a sub on the 1922 squad. He came out with a determination that was never checked throughout the season. Although always outweighed he was seldom outplayed, and took care of right guard in good style.

WHITTINGTON

Roy, playing his second year at tackle, proved to be one of the best seen on any of the teams played. His size and aggressiveness make him a valuable man for any team.

C. STOOPS

Stoops came out for football for the first time last fall. His size and strength were of great value at left guard. He was a hard fighter, and did not know the meaning of the word "quit."

KEWLEY

Kewley fitted in well at left end and on defense was exceptionally good. He was very seldom taken care of by the opposing offense. He showed that he was a versatile player when at Decatur he played fullback on offense, doing a very nice piece of work.

U. High Basketball 1923-'24

Although the season cannot be counted a success insofar as the number of games won, it was a success in that it built a team which will represent U. High next season in a most commendable manner.

Out of only one letter man and twenty-five inexperienced recruits Coach Benjamin had a tough job in putting out a team. The schedule was followed, however, and the team progressed eight games without a win; the team improved rapidly, but hard luck cost them the games. In the county tournament we were defeated twice by a very narrow margin. After winning our first game in the district tournament by a forfeit we were eliminated by the district champions.

The following eight men received their letters in basketball: Lale Henry (Captain), Carl Schuth, Lander Van Gundy, Roy Whittington, Robin McClure, Nathan Mohar, Martin Kelley, and William Bennett. The first six of these men will be back next year.

INTRA-MURAL ATHLETICS

The seniors won the class tournament from the freshmen, who were awarded the second place. The games were interesting and well attended. The writer's all-star selection is as follows:

H. Mohar (Capt.)	f.	Seniors
E. Sneath	f.	Sophomores
H. Conger	c.	Seniors
J. Penrith	g.	Freshmen
W. Morgan	g.	Sophomores

 2nd Ditto: "Nobody here named Romans. He graduated in '22."
 Speaker: "Lend me your ears"—
 3rd Voice: "Stow that stuff! how about that two bits I lent you?"
 Speaker: "I come to bury Caesar"—
 4th Voice: "Wake up, Caesar croaked before your time."
 Speaker: "—not to praise him."
 5th Voice: "Aw, kill it, move we adjourn to the station store."

Minier-U. High Debate

The only inter-school debate U. High had this year was one with Minier. Eight girls who represented Thalian Society debated with a girls' team from Minier on the question "Resolved that immigration to the United States should be prohibited for a period of three years." U. High won the negative side by a two-to-one vote, but lost the affirmative unanimously. Although they did not win both sides of the question, the girls felt they had done their best for Thalian and U. High. The affirmative team was composed of Mary Murphy, Nadine Stewart, and Mable Sage, with Grace Williams as alternate. The negative speakers were Irene Dillon, Josephine McCormick, and Ethelwynne Penrith, with Ruth Dillon as alternate. The girls feel that their success was greatly dependent upon the coaching of Mr. Charles Hornback.

She: I love to hear anyone singing while at work.
 He: How you must adore a mosquito.

Junior Play

This year the Junior Class of U. High presented the play "Ruth in a Rush," which was acclaimed by those who had the good fortune to see it as one of the best plays ever put on by a high-school organization.

The parts were exceedingly well played and showed the superb coaching of Miss McConnell.

"Miss Cherryblossom"

The Glee Clubs presented "Miss Cherryblossom" in the auditorium, February 26. The operetta was one of the most successful events of the year. The acting and singing of both the principals and choruses were exceptionally well done. Much of the credit of the success is due to Miss Grace VanDyke More, who coached the comedy. The setting and lighting of the stage made the operetta one of the most artistic given in the auditorium. The Japanese costumes made a very pretty picture.

CAST

Calendar

- September 8—Old U. High again opens its doors to great ones, small ones, lean ones, brawny ones, grave old plodders, gay young friskers, etc., etc., (with apologies).
- September 9—The seating plan is announced.
- September 28—Our 1924 pigskin makes its debut on the home field in a practice game with McLean. We made them look like "Dame Grundy" herself.
- October 6—Our boys call on Spaulding at Peoria and lose a great contest.
- October 8—Our freshies "eat, drink, and make merry" 'round a bonfire at Cunningham's.
- October 12—Once more we fall before our neighbors to the north. U. High Glee Clubs have a splendid romp out at James Hamm's. Oh, you "grain elevator" town!
- October 13—Odeon and Miss Stephens braved the rain and mud to go to Lexington for fried steak and gingerbread. Remember?
- October 20—Sophomores entertain freshmen with a masquerade where nobody knows everybody—everybody knows somebody.
- October 20—Our boys journey to Peoria Manual but, sad, oh sad, are defeated.
- October 26—Our little neighbors across the street came across "to put one over on us," but we sent them back with "one put over on them."
- Homecomers, homecomers, and still they come.
- October 27—A great jumble of waffles, greetings, hobo parade, games, all-school parties, banquets, and dances.
- November 2—Hurrah! Hurrah! We won over Lincoln 7-0. Unadilla Roast roasted everything from "hot dogs" to marshmallows.
- November 10—How grand it is to have a "hard times party" on a farm! So the seniors think. Bloomington wins over us at last with a score of 3-0. Mixed up ineligibles, etc.
- November 17—Wesleyan had their Homecoming and U. High marched along to the strains of a "golly whiz" band.
- December 7—Town folks startled. Thalian initiation—only that and nothing more. Luck seems to have turned against us. Again we lost to Lexington.
- December 14—Juniors give their annual play wherein "Ruth rushes" all over school. And now we joyously hasten home to "pa, ma, and the kids" 'cause Santy Claus is coming.
- December 15—Thalian Debating Society entertain their gentlemen friends at the home of Josephine McCormick. They tripped the light fantastic and had their picture "tooked."
- January 2—Back are we again. Sure we're glad to be back! Oh, look what I got for Christmas!
- January 4—U. High played Fairbury. Fairbury won only that and nothing more.
- January 14—Normal High takes a hard-fought scrap from us.
- January 18—The seniors present the "Follies", ably assisted by the other organizations. What could be sweeter (for Lincoln)? U. High again lost a hard-fought battle.
- January 25—U. High played Averyville. Same old story—we lost.
- January 26—Rostrum holds its annual dance.
- January 30—Normal runs away with our victory and we are "as mad as wet hens."
- January 31—We get it in the neck again. This time from Lexington.
- February 7—On with the tournament. We lost our first game to Bellflower quintet. Again we play Saybrook and again we lose.
- February 14—We battle with Bloomington for supremacy, but to no avail.
- February 22—U. High Glee Clubs present "Miss Cherryblossom" with plenty of blossoms, both flowers and girls. We liked it.
- February 23—Odeonites donned their best raiment and betook themselves to the Y.W.C.A., and afterwards to the "Maj."
- February 29—Junior Class hosts to terpsichorean enthusiasts.
- U. High plays the talented alumni quintet.
- March 5—And the next tourney is here. Our first game scheduled was with Gibson City. It was what might be called a successful failure. Forfeit game.
- March 7—Our stubborn neighbors in Bloomington. A heartbreaking game from us.
- March 9—Unadillians hold banquet at Woman's Exchange, and theater party.
- March 10—Our inter-class contest begins with a game between freshies and juniors. The freshies were victorious.
- March 11—Sophomores played seniors with the seniors coming off on top.

ADVICE TO FRESHMEN

This little rule will take you far
If you will only mind it.
Don't try to cross before a trolley car—
You'll find more room behind it.

TRAGIC!

Mable: "Did you hear what happened to Spud?"
Martin: "No, what?"
Mable: "She stepped on the clutch and the accelerator!"

PUT SALT ON THEIR TAILS

Pete: "Have you read 'To a Mouse' and 'To a Louse'?"
Steve: "No. How do you get 'em to listen?"

Frances: "You sit down on every joke I write."
David: "Well, I wouldn't if there was any point to them."

Mary: "Scotty is a good fellow, but he knows some of the awfulest songs."

Grace: "Does he sing them to you?"
Mary: "No, but he whistles them."

If money talks, as some folks say,
It never gives itself away.

Murray: "When I look into your eyes it sets my brain on fire."
Janice: "I thought I smelled wood burning."

Gertrude: "Did you take father apart and speak to him?"
Dorothy: "Not exactly, but he almost fell to pieces when I spoke to him."

Clinton: "I is"—
Miss Hamilton: "No, not 'I is,' but 'I am'."
Clinton: "I am the ninth letter in the alphabet."

Teacher: "What is a waffle, Roy?"
Roy: "A waffle is a pancake with cleats."

Stick: "Did you know that next year the coach is going to make all the backfield men get married?"

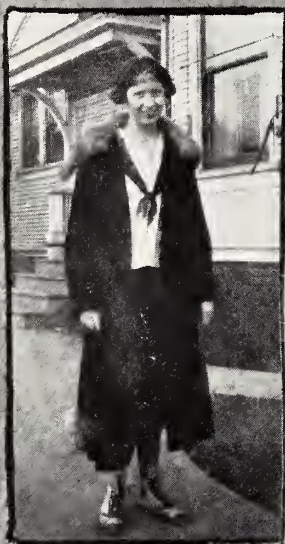

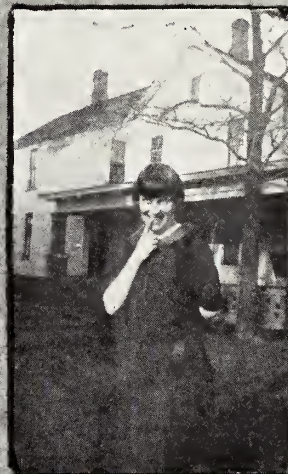

Helen: "No-o-o! Why?"
Stick: "So we'll have some better halves."

Freshman: "Where would I find 'Keep on the Grass' rules?"
Sophomore: "In the footnotes."

I. S. N. U. Graduates are Superior

Graduates of Illinois State Normal University become teachers that are superior to graduates of any other school, and School Boards need not hesitate to employ graduates of this school. Why? Because the most important defect of a teacher has been eradicated by inhibition of the prevailing habit. Ask any prominent educator, or consult any pedagogical text book, and you will find that the chief defect of a teacher is that he talks too much. This is not true of Normal graduates, for there is no place where one has the privilege of talk freely.

There is our large auditorium and the students congregate there four times a week. But may they talk? No. It is definitely understood that an auditorium is a place in which to hear, not a parlor in which to talk. Woe to the student that takes the liberty to express himself during General Assembly except to sing. Even an announcement must be prepared properly and memorized for fear of a mistake in English. Also students are reminded that it is undemocratic to talk during a lecture course number, even if it is very uninteresting to the audience. Some one near may wish to hear. It is far better to sleep than to talk.

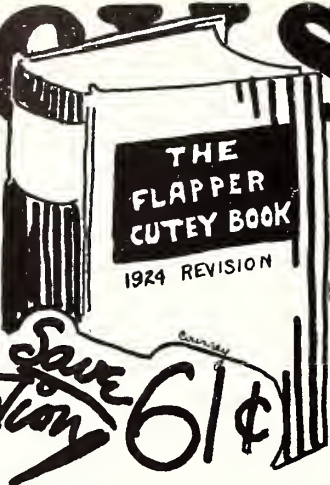

Our large corridors are not used for conversation, for students are continually being reminded that the noise disturbs the classes, and are told to move on. It is even necessary to walk rapidly through the corridors, especially the narrow passageways, in order to avoid congestion, and to get to the class room on time. The study hall is not used for conversation because students are placed on their honor to keep quiet. It is a place to study. Occasionally a faculty member disturbs the silence with his presence and reports any who break their honor. The library is a similar place. With eagle eyes the library assistants watch the students, and talkers are compelled to write their names on a paper which is sent to the Librarian, with whom there is no chance for conversation.

There is also an order to keep off the campus during study hours. We are reminded that one cannot study there, nor in cars parked along the drive. Students conscientiously follow their study program. Mrs. Grundy says it improper to stop to talk on the street or at the Station Store, and no student at this school wishes to be rude. Even at the rooming houses conversation is limited, for to be otherwise would provoke the responsible head of the house. Even at the boarding club just enough time is taken to partake nourishment to keep body and soul together.

The class periods are taken up with stories from the professors and discussions of the texts. There is only one chance for a student to give free expression. Literary societies and rhetoricals are established for this purpose. However there is no danger of students receiving the habit of talking from these, for they rarely speak more often than once a month. With the habit of talking too much eliminated, it is easy to see why Normal teachers are superior.

President Phelmleigh

The most important fact in the life of Mr. Phelmleigh was his birth. In this he shares common ground with many other great men. Most of them were born at some time or other. Some of them have been credited in history with several different birth dates. History hasn't laid hold on our Prexy yet so we must content ourselves with the mere fact that he was born. When? It makes no difference.

Of his early life we know little. It is known that one day during his youth he made a rash statement, something as follows: "If it isn't in that spelling book I'll eat it." "It" wasn't in the spelling book and the youthful educator swallowed the volume. Efforts by physicians to locate the speller were in vain and he has never recovered from it. To guard against future generations having the same sad experience he has so simplified the spelling of the English language that no one would suffer bad consequences from consuming a simplified speller.

"King David" is a mighty hunter and may be seen quite often traversing the wilds around Old Main, waiting for the fierce pigeons to appear that he may furnish his table with pigeon pot pie. It is rumored that he has calculated almost to the last feather how many pigeon feathers will be necessary to construct a featherbed exactly five feet six inches in length and four feet eight and one-half inches in width with a compression ratio of $\frac{3}{2}$.

His mathematical ability and range of knowledge are marvelous. For instance he can tell you that the Nepoka River at a distance of $72 \frac{1}{5}$ miles from Tanga in Africa is just $17\frac{3}{4}$ inches deep, if you waded out far enough from the shore. He can cover the earth with gold as the interest on one cent and can perhaps tell you what would happen if a country tried to issue gold certificates too far beyond that amount, provided that the National Educational Association was still in session.

Much more could be written about the President but we reserve that to some greater person. We will merely finish with a quotation from the Symph:

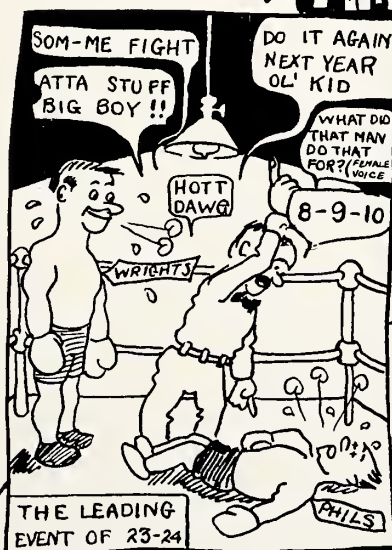

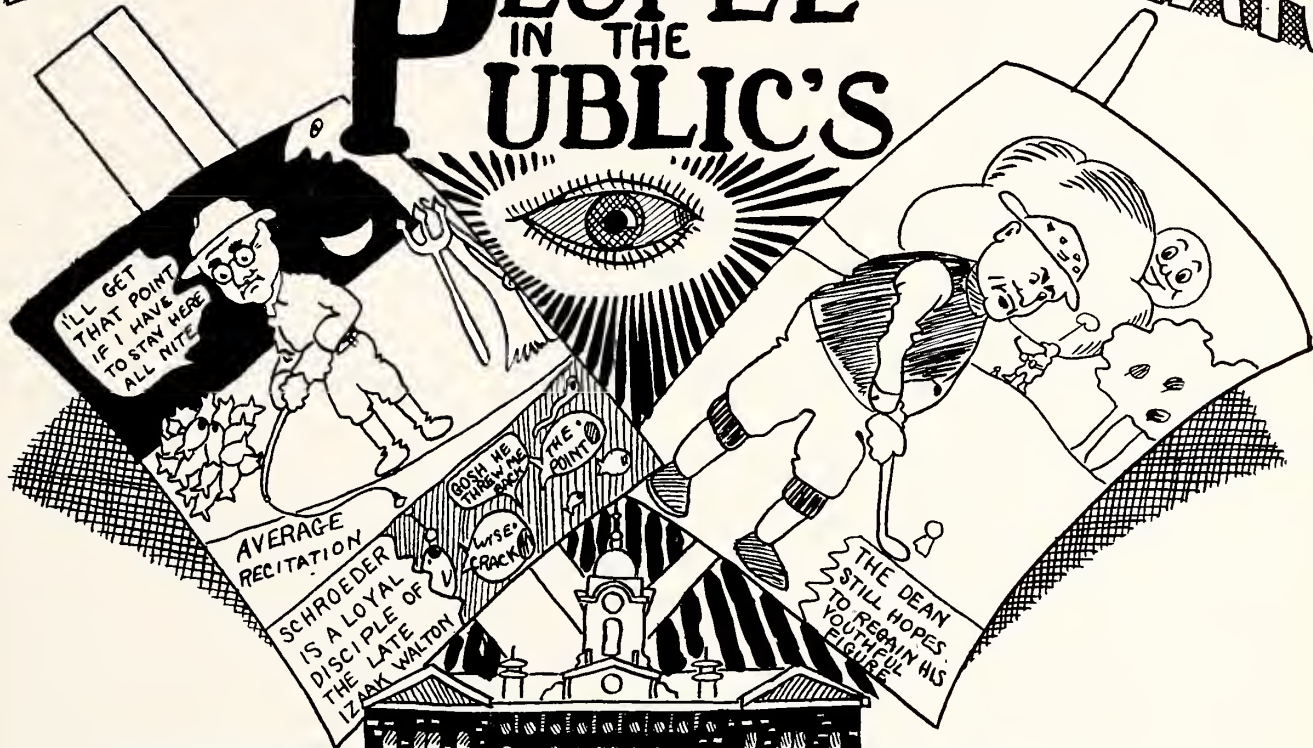

"Long live the king," we shout full strong
In happiness, health and honor;
But that word "helth", I spelled it wrong
Don't tell Felmley of this boner."

"Isn't it strange that Princes and Kings
And clowns that caper in sawdust rings,
And just plain folks like you and me,
Are builders for Eternity?
To each is given a bag of tools,
A shapeless mass and a book of rules;
And each must make ere life is flown
A stumbling block, or a stepping stone."

Essay on the Automobile

What wonderful beast are the automobile. You don't push him at all, much; you don't pull him, either, hardly ever. But anyhow he run like greased thunder, mostly.

Mister Rockefeller and Mr. Ford both of them, make the automobile first. Mr. Ford he take a can, bend him in machine and call him a automobile. Mister Rockefeller he fill him oop with gas, screw down the cap and somebody go riding. Pretty soon Mister Ford he has to take gas buggy back and make him over. One hundred bux.

Every Sunday, always, large parts of population they go joyriding. The old man he sit in front seat with two oldest boys. Mama she sits in whole back seat and tell papa how not to drive hardly ever. Old man he peeves and say "Say who are driving these here car here, you'r me." Mama she says with iceberg in voice, "You is but I wish I are." Papa light cigar and say "Shut up."

Sometimes young squirt he take I.S.N.U. girl out riding about 9:15 P. M. Pretty soon they get out on country road where there ain't no car an no houses hardly very near either. Suddenly all at once automobile he make stop. "What are matter" say girl. "Engine missing", say squirt. Is you going to make fix among him," say girl. "He go all right if he rest half hour," say he at 9:50. Half hour later at 12:16 engine he all right and squirt he take almost the right road and get home at 2:06. Next morning he take headache tablet. Mama says "What time you get in?" He says "I get in early. Lend me five dollar."

Sometimes automobile he argue with train. The coroner he pick oop the driver with blotter and say, "Accidental death by disintegration." Henry Ford he say to heirs, "Two hundred seventeen dollar n' ninety-eight cent and I fix car oop like new."

What wonderful beast are the automobile!

Learned of every Prof. his failings
Learned their jokes and all the old ones
That they'd used for generations,
Why they did and why they didn't;
Talked with them where'er he met them
Called them every one "Professor."
Of all studes he learned the secrets
How they passed sans any studying
How to date and when to do it.
Where a phone was always handy
To call Fell Hall and how to do it,
Why the matron was so crabbed
Spoke to her whene'er he met her
On her good side tried to get him.
Then the Dean, the great unfailing
He the marvelous story teller
He, economist and tax shark
He the fear of all the flunkers
Made a call for our dear student;
From the public stage he made it
From the stage where all could hear it;
He should come, explain his flunkings
To the office east the hall.
Then he said to our dear student
"Go, my boy, and work your hardest
Quit your dating altogether
Get to work and keep it up,
You can do it, now get busy."
Forth he sallied much crestfallen
Taken back by all this language
Sadly with his head a drooping,
No one saw him, spoke or pitied him
He was green, 'twould pass in time!

NORMAL, ILLINOIS

The oldest normal school in the Mississippi Valley, affords excellent advantages to young people who wish to prepare for teaching. Its equipment is ample; its annual income exceeds $300,000, its regular faculty numbers sixty-four. Its enrolment of college students for the last year was 3749. The attendance in fall and winter exceeds 1,000.

The Following Programs are Provided for 1924-1925

1. A two-year curriculum for graduates of high schools with full four-year courses in four forms to meet the needs of upper grade teachers, of lower grade teachers, of kindergarten-primary teachers, and of country school teachers.
2. A two-year special curriculum for teachers of Physical Education
3. A two-year special curriculum for teachers of Music
4. A two-year special curriculum for teachers of Commercial Branches
5. A two-year special curriculum for teachers of Manual Training
6. A two-year special curriculum for teachers of Agriculture
7. A two-year special curriculum for teachers of Art and Design
8. A two-year special curriculum for teachers of Domestic Science
9. A two-year special curriculum for teachers of Domestic Art
10. A three-year special curriculum in Home Economics
11. The nine foregoing curriculums are based upon four years of high-school work and lead to a special diploma and qualify the holder for the special teachers' certificate granted by the school laws of Illinois. Students without full high-school preparation may make up the missing work at Normal as explained below.
12. A four-year Teachers College curriculum for high-school teachers leading to the degree of Bachelor of Education
13. A four-year curriculum in Home Economics to meet the requirements of the Smith-Hughes Act
14. A four-year curriculum for principals and supervisors of elementary schools
15. A four-year curriculum for principals of village and community high schools
16. A one-year curriculum for college graduates
The degree of Bachelor of Education is awarded to students who complete any of the five foregoing curriculums.
17. A preparatory program to enable people, who are deficient in high-school preparation and who are too old to enter the high school, to make up their deficiencies by intensive work in a shorter time than the high-school program requires
18. Five four-year high-school curriculums in Agriculture, in Manual Training, in Home Economics, in Commercial Branches, and for students who wish to study extensively Foreign Languages and Mathematics to meet the customary college entrance requirements. These five programs are for graduates of the eighth grade and lead to the diploma of the University High School.

"Don't Kiss Her, John!"

Let us draw a lesson from the profitless plea made by Miles Standish when John Alden departed to visit Priscilla:

"Don't kiss her, John!—I haven't kissed her myself, yet!"

You know the result. Did John desist? He did not. The wedding chimes rang merrily in Plymouth, but not for Standish.

Do it yourself,—and do it now.

About This Store

At the time of writing this ad we have been the owner of this store but a little over one year.

We venture to say however, that if you have been in any time during the past nine months you will have noted a great change in the appearance of the store and everything in it. We hope you like it.

You will find the inner workings or business principles of this firm equally clean and carefully looked after as the outward or visible things. Come and get acquainted.

SOCIALIST—A species of animal very frequently seen at a teachers' college. Owing to the fact that no living person knows what a socialist is they are hard to distinguish.

SOCIETY—1. Literary—Erroneously conceived as a handy relief from rhetoricals. 2. General—Thing that school teachers try to escape.

OUR BEST "BOOSTER" IS OUR OLD CUSTOMER

The reason we get so many new customers is because we serve our old customers so well they feel like recommending this bank to their friends.

No matter whether you keep a balance of ten dollars or ten thousand, our service is the same.

TOUCH-DOWN!

THE CRASH of the lines—the half-back knifes through—the goal posts beckon—but tacklers threaten still.

That's the time for interference—for the diving smash that crumples the would-be tackler, and clears the field for the flashing runner with the ball. The stands rock with the shout of victory. Touchdown!

Election to the annual staff is only reaching the line of scrimmage. Your task has just begun. Burly figures stud the field to trip you, smother you, drag you down. Problems, tangles, discouragements!—but the goal can be reached—if you have good interference.

That's our job. You take the ball—we'll take out the tacklers. And we'll stay with you till the last white line is crossed and the crowd is hitching your name to a booming skyrocket.

Put Stafford on the team. Call 'em, quarterback. Let's go.

COOPERATION—A NECESSITY TO ANY SUCCESSFUL PROJECT!

The advertisers have helped to make the 1924 INDEX a success because they have cooperated with the staff to the fullest extent. This section is an expression of confidence in the student body by the advertisers. It shows that they are striving to please the students and serve them to the best of their capacity.

Remember the firms whose advertisements you read and that they did much to make the 1924 INDEX a success.
